League Council Grapples Ethiopia Problem

After Setback Group of Three Seeks Agreement

Eden of Britain, Laval of France and Litvinoff of Russia try to find proposal before Council meets again to-morrow afternoon at Geneva

Italy Firm At To-day's Session

Associated Press
Geneva, July 31.—Assigned to the task by a baffled League Council, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden of Great Britain, Premier Laval of France and Maxim Litvinoff of Russia failed in private meeting to-night to reach agreement on a formula for progress towards settling the Italo-Ethiopian deadlock. They still have to-morrow before the Council meets publicly.

The three diplomats are to meet again later to-night in another attempt at an accord. Any agreement they may reach will be submitted to the British and French governments before it is discussed with the representatives of Italy and Ethiopia.

ITALY STATES POSITION
Geneva, July 31.—Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Premier Mussolini's representative in the League of Nations, flatly told the League Council to-day that Italy would not discuss anything at this time except the limited arbitration question in its dispute with Ethiopia.

The Italian representative declared he could not participate in any discussion which included other matters than the subject of arbitration. He was heard by the Council, meeting in private session which lasted less than one hour. It adjourned until 5 p.m. (8 a.m. P.S.T.), to-morrow, when it will hold a public meeting. In that brief interval the representatives of Great Britain and France, will endeavor, on the recommendation of the Council, to negotiate.

Firemen Trapped Beneath Walls

Canadian Press from Havas
Warsaw, July 31.—At least fifteen persons were killed and sixteen others seriously injured here to-day in the collapse of the house where Mme. Marie Curie of radium fame was born.

Firemen, digging for victims in the ruins, were trapped beneath the falling walls of another section of the house, and it was feared the toll would increase.

Reason for the collapse was not immediately discovered.

After the second section had collapsed the ruins were roped off and engineers were called to inspect other sections of the building to determine their condition before proceeding with rescue work.

CENTURY OLD
The house was more than a century old and was occupied by several families at the time of the disaster.

Mme. Curie, co-discoverer of radium with her husband, Pierre Curie, was born in the house in 1867. She died in Paris a year ago.

Single Jobless On Prairies Must Work On Farms

Saskatchewan Government Decides All Able-bodied Unmarried Unemployed Men Are to Accept Call to Harvest Fields Or Be Cut Off Relief

Regina, July 31.—Every able-bodied single man in Saskatchewan must accept farm work or be cut off relief, says an official statement issued to-day on behalf of the government by Hon. R. J. M. Parker, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

While the order is effective as from this date, Mr. Parker explained it did not mean all single, even the able-bodied, would be cut off the relief lists at once. Reasonable time, he said, would be given the men to get work. But there could be no undue delay.

The order also declares heads of families, physically fit, will be expected to take farm jobs and every facility possible will be used to obtain employment for them. Every available man will be needed, the order reads, to take off the fast-rising crop.

MOVE FOR HALF-HOUR PARKING

Chief Heatley Replies to Business Firms' Objections

A suggestion to meet the objections of business men to the proposed parallel parking regulations on Douglas Street, was offered by Police Chief Heatley this morning.

The chief, in a letter to the City Council, suggested the adoption of half-hour parking with the parallel system.

While anxious to co-operate with business houses in his move for reorganization of city parking, the chief is convinced the proper solution to the present problem lies in parallel restrictions.

Limiting parking to half an hour in the business area, he says, would keep traffic moving in front of stores and while there would be less parking space, traffic would change more often thus allowing prospective customers to reach the stores.

Parking in several Pacific Coast cities is restricted to half an hour and twenty minutes, he points out.

BEACH BABIES

An international touch is given to the Beach Babies' column by the above interesting picture. Louise and Watson Quon, children of Mr. and Mrs. Quon, 523 Fitzgerald Street, are seen enjoying an outing at Brentwood Bay beach. They are Victoria-born babies. The snap was taken by Quon Dick.

The Times invites readers to send in snapshots of children taken at the beaches. Write names and a few particulars on the back. All clear enough to reproduce will be published.

Detective Howard Doyle, who questioned Dr. Bauer, said the victim named as a suspect a man whom Mrs. Bauer said was intensely jealous and embittered because of the marriage. Dr. Bauer did not know the man personally, Doyle said.

TRIBUTES TO LATE LEADER

Cabinet Members, U.B.C. Head and Others Voice Regret at Dean Brock's Death

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 31.—Leaders in many walks of life joined to-day in mourning the death of Dean R. W. Brock of the University of British Columbia, which was the result of an airplane crash at Alta Lake, B.C., yesterday afternoon.

"I have known few men to whom one might so fittingly apply a passage from Shakespeare: 'His life was gentle and the elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, this was a man,'" said Hon. G. M. Weir, B.C. Minister of Education and a former university faculty associate.

"He was a gentleman and a scholar always—an educator and a scientist, and his contribution in both fields was outstanding. His loss to the educational community is irreparable."

Dr. L. S. Kilne, president of the University of B.C., declared Dean Brock's death would come as a shock to friends in all parts of Canada and the English-speaking world.

"At the university, where his association dated from 1914," said President Kilne, "his intimate knowledge of the natural resources of the province, his enthusiasm for his work, his untiring energy, his ability to inspire his students and his insistence for fundamentals in the lecture room, combined with practical experience in

The contract figure was $30,518, the lowest of six tenders submitted. Work will be started as soon as possible so that the boys can be housed in the remodeled structure, said Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, who made the announcement.

When it was completed and the boys had vacated other buildings which were to be used as a new home for the aged and infirm from Essonvale, work could proceed on that project which would cost roughly $50,000, the minister said.

A copy of the report was filed to-day with the city.

David Sloan, Managing Director of Pioneer Mines, Lies in Critical Condition in Vancouver Hospital As Result of Plane Crash Sixty Miles North of Terminal City

Down-draft Stated Cause of Accident

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 31.—Dr. Reginald Walter Brock, one of Canada's outstanding men of action in a number of fields, Mrs. Brock and Pilot William McCluskey lost their lives as the result of an air crash at Alta Lake yesterday. David Sloan, managing director of the Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia Ltd., this afternoon was in a critical condition in the Vancouver General Hospital.

A side-slip in a down-draft brought instant death to Dean Brock and Pilot McCluskey, and Mrs. Brock died as she was being placed in an ambulance at Horseshoe Bay, and just after she had spoken to two of her sons—Tom, eighteen, and Dave, twenty-four.

Mr. Sloan was admitted to the hospital after an ambulance had taken him over police-guarded roads, bridges and streets.

Aviation officials were notified from Ottawa to-day that H. C. Ingram of Edmonton had been ordered to proceed to Vancouver at once to conduct an investigation into the crash. H. Carter Guest of Vancouver, inspector of civil aviation in British Columbia, is at present on a tour of inspection in the Yukon.

ON WAY TO BRIDGE RIVER

Dean Brock of the faculty of applied science of the University of British Columbia, chairman of the Vancouver Harbor Commission, and officer commanding the First Battalion Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, Vancouver, had left Vancouver with Mr. Sloan and Pilot McCluskey and landed at Alta Lake to pick up Mrs. Brock, who was holidaying at the mountain resort.

They were taking off again for Gun Lake in the Bridge River district when the accident happened.

Alta Lake, combining a down-draft with the rare atmosphere of an altitude of 2,300 feet, is unpopular with airmen.

FAILED TO CLIMB

The plane, a five-passenger Boeing flying boat, failed to gain altitude, and the pilot, apparently realising he could not clear the tree-bordered edge, attempted to bank and turn back. The machine side-slipped in the down-draft. The pilot apparently shut off the motor to minimize the Liberals, who have been conducting an active campaign for several weeks following the selection of C. J. McDowell as their candidate, are now looking forward to a visit from their leader, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. Mr. King is expected to leave on a tour of the west about August 15.

C.C.F., who have chosen Dr. King Gordon as their candidate, plan an intensive organization and personal canvass.

At a meeting in the C.C.F. headquarters yesterday evening, Dr. Gordon outlined their plans. He urged that the membership of 150 in ward clubs be immediately doubled, and each member pledged to persuade ten persons to vote C.C.F. Means must be found to carry the party's propaganda into every section of the community, he said, and arranged to address all the C.C.F. ward clubs next week at separate meetings.

Selection of the Conservative and Reconstruction candidates in Victoria will be an already large list of aspirants in the B.C. field. To date there are thirty-five contesting the sixteen seats, including thirteen Liberals, sixteen C.C.F., four Conservatives, one Independent and one Reconstructionist. Small Speculators
In Wheat Disappear

July Future Taken From
Board of Winnipeg Grain
Exchange; New Wheat
Board Soon to Operate

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, July 31.—The small speculator made his exit from the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day when the July wheat future was taken from the trading board.

It is understood the government wheat agency has made arrangements to take delivery of wheat between August 1 and 31, thus putting the local market on a cash basis.

This, in effect, means that by the end of August, the Dominion government will have taken possession of all wheat stored in Canada, and possibly some in the United States, up to the limit of the agency's commitments in the market.

NEW WHEAT BOARD
According to the Wheat Board Act passed at the last session of Parliament, these commitments will be turned over to the new wheat board when it is established and becomes operative and the 1935 crop will be marketed either through the Winnipeg Grain Exchange or with the wheat board.

With August the sole remaining trading future on the board, the small speculator will be eliminated, effective to-morrow. If he buys wheat during August, he might find himself in possession of the actual wheat on the day he makes the purchase, in which case he must put up margin to within a small percentage of the total value of the wheat, an almost prohibitive amount as far as the small operator is concerned.

on the city streets to give the ambulance clear way.

Mr. Sloan was admitted to the hospital about 2.35 a.m.

Dean Brock was internationally known as one of the greatest geologists Canada has produced.

LEAVES FAMILY
Pilot McCuskey, aged forty-two, one of the organizers and owners of the recently formed Pioneer Airways Limited, was a native of Vernon, B.C., and is survived by a widow and six children who had recently moved to Vancouver from Vernon to be near him. He had had a busy week-end. He had flown from Ocean Falls to Prince Rupert on Saturday, from there to Stewart, back to Prince Rupert and down to Ocean Falls on Sunday. He went to Alert Bay on Monday and came back to Vancouver. Flying to other points, he arrived back here yesterday morning and took off again on the fatal flight to Alta Lake.

He was one of the best known pilots in Canada, having been interested in flying since 1918, when he served overseas with the Royal Air Force. He was interested in commercial flying after the war, then went into a saw-mill venture at Vernon, and later returned to flying. He was inventor of an adjustable tail stabilizer which he sold to the Curtiss Airplane Company. He did some notable flying in northern British Columbia a few years ago. His mother, Mrs. A. Furness, lives in Vancouver. His father died many years ago.

IN HARBOR ACCIDENT
David Sloan was one of a group of passengers who narrowly escaped death in Vancouver harbor last day when their plane nosed over after hitting a towing line.

LOGGERS FIRST AT WRECK
Alta Lake, B.C., July 31.—When a flying boat crashed here yesterday afternoon, carrying three persons to their deaths and seriously injuring a fourth, four loggers working nearby were the first to reach the wreckage.

William McDermott, John Ballis, Charles Lundstrom and Charles Paul, the loggers, found Dean R. W. Brock of the University of British Columbia dead, terribly mangled. The pilot, William McCuskey, died as he was being taken from the cockpit.

Mr. Brock gasped: "I don't think I can stand it," and lapsed into unconsciousness. She later revived, but died while being rushed to a Vancouver hospital.

David Sloan, managing director of the Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia Ltd., said calmly: "I think my jaw is broken." It was, and, in addition, he suffered fractures of both ankles, hip injuries and possible internal injuries.

SONS AT TAKE-OFF
David and Tom, sons of Dean Brock, aged twenty-four and eighteen, respectively, had waved good-bye to their father and mother at the shore of Alta Lake—then began recording with a "movie" camera the take-off of their parents for Vancouver in a flying boat.

The plane taxied northward over wind-swept waters and rose gracefully. The camera ceased to click. Suddenly the plane faltered, side-slipped and crashed. While Dean Brock died instantly, the sons were with their mother when she died nine hours later while being rushed to a Vancouver hospital.

ATTEMPT TO SAVE PLANE
Pilot McCuskey made a desperate effort to pull his plane out of the plunge.

Eye-witnesses stated that McCuskey apparently saw he had not enough altitude to clear the trees at the south end of the lake, and attempted to bank and turn back over the lake.

The banked turn it side-slipped and nosed towards the ground. The motor stopped, the pilot apparently shutting it off in realization of the danger of fire in the coming crash. The machine struck a stump nose on, driving the engine back into the cabin, and then toppled over on the rocks. One wing was torn off.

Dean Reginald Walter Brock, who lost his life in an airplane crash yesterday afternoon, had a career of distinction in a number of lines in many parts of the world.

Since last December he had been on leave from the university to fill the position of chairman of the Vancouver Harbor Board.

Dean Brock graduated from the Queen's University School of Mines, Kingston, Ont., in 1906, and since then had done geological work in British Columbia, had been professor of geology at Queen's, held the posts of Deputy Minister of Mines of Canada and director of the Geological Survey of Canada and served with the rank of major during the Great War in Syria and Palestine. At the time of his death he held the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

For more than ten years Dean Brock and his associates at the university were engaged in making a geological survey of the island of Hongkong for the British Government. In 1933 he had leave of absence from the university to complete that task.

BORN IN ONTARIO
Dean Brock was born in Perth, Ont., in 1874, a son of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas B. Brock. He was educated at the University of Toronto, Queen's University and Heidelberg University.

After serving for a short time as demonstrator in chemistry and mineralogy at Queen's University, he joined the staff of the Geological Survey of Canada, where he conducted many important explorations and won the reputation as the best authority on the geological formation of the great mineral belt in southern British Columbia. In 1903, he acted as land-slide assessor in the Yukon, that claimed many lives. In 1904 he was promoted to geologist and the following year he was made director of the Geological Survey.

MINING LAWS
In collaboration with F. L. Congdon, he prepared the draft which forms the basis of Canadian mining laws.

In 1914 and 1915 he served as Deputy Minister of Mines at Ottawa and resigned from that post to become dean of applied science at the newly established University of British Columbia.

His early U.B.C. work consisted of raising the 190th Battalion, known as the Western Universities Battalion. He served as a major with special distinction under General Allenby in Palestine and Syria.

Returning from overseas he took up his work at the U.B.C.

On May 25 last he was elected president of the Royal Society of Canada.

WIDELY KNOWN
He carried after his name the degrees and honors of M.A., LL.D., Queen's, LL.D. (Honorary), F.G.S., F.R.S.C. He was internationally known as one of the greatest geologists in the history of Canada.

He was a life fellow of the American Geological Society, a member of the Association of American Geographers and a member of the National Research Council. He was a member of Canadian, British and United States mining and metallurgical organizations, and a past general secretary of the International Geological Congress.

DAUGHTER OF JUDGE
Mrs. Brock, who died of injuries at Dean Brock's plane crash, was the former Mildred Britton, daughter of the late Mr. Justice B. M. Britton of Ontario.

Lieut.-Comm. P. Willet Brock, R.N., Britton; David and Tom, the latter a student at the Royal Military College, Kingston, are sons of the late Dean and Mrs. Brock.

He was an authority on everything connected with mining and its welfare was almost an obsession with him."

Dr. Daniel Buchanan, dean of the faculty of Arts of the University of British Columbia, said: "He was a tower of strength to the university and he stood for sound scholarship, thorough training and virility of mind and body. The high position held by the department of geology, of which he was head, and by the faculty of applied science, of which he was dean, was in no small measure due to his labors. He was one of the most outstanding geologists of his time."

MAYOR'S TRIBUTE
Mayor G. G. McGeer M.P.P., said: "Dean Brock was distinctly the kind of man Vancouver or any other city should be proud to have as a citizen. He was a citizen with a wide range of interests and always ready to do his part as a good citizen."

In Victoria, to-day Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, said: "The news of the tragically sudden death of Dean R. W. Brock, chairman of the Vancouver Harbor Board, and of Mrs. Brock, comes as a shock to myself and other members of the Provincial Mines Department."

"It is difficult to find words to express our sense of loss. As everyone recognized who had the privilege of his acquaintance, Dean Brock was a man of the highest standards as a citizen. His training directed his interests to problems relating to geology and mining engineering, and the work he did in Canada while director of the Geological Survey and Federal Deputy Minister of Mines, was of such character that his name will live."

"His memory will be treasured by the alumni of the University of British Columbia, to whom he lectured as a member of the faculty of applied science, giving of his wide and deep knowledge, and of his experience, in their training for professional activity."

"There are hundreds of young men in this province who will recall many personal kindnesses in the way of advice and assistance extended during their university career. Dean Brock's familiar and genial figure will be greatly missed in the regular gatherings at the university, and in connection with the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy (British Columbia division)."

"It is only possible to add that sincere sympathy is offered the field, resulted in the training of a select group of men whose achievements were a credit to himself and the university."

BOARD OF TRADE
"The passing of Dean Brock is nothing short of a calamity to this community and to the whole of Canada," said E. B. Dixon, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, of which the late dean was a member.

"He was what I would call a wonderful citizen, always ready and more than willing to answer every call to service. In the Board of Trade he was valued him as one of our best members, always helpful, always responding to every call for advice or active work."

J. B. Thomson, a member of the Vancouver Harbor Board of which Dean Brock was chairman, said: "He has lost not only a colleague of the most unusual parts, but a real friend of many years' standing."

"We became closely associated on the harbor board and it is simply beyond me to express my regard for his qualities as a man and an executive."

IN MINING FIELD
"I have no hesitation in calling him the real leader of our mining community in British Columbia," said Frank E. Woodside, manager of the B.C. Chamber of Mines.

"Only those who have been associated with him could know his marvelous capacity and wide practical knowledge. He was much more than just an outstanding geologist."

He was an authority on everything connected with mining and its welfare was almost an obsession with him."

Dr. Daniel Buchanan, dean of the faculty of Arts of the University of British Columbia, said: "He was a tower of strength to the university and he stood for sound scholarship, thorough training and virility of mind and body. The high position held by the department of geology, of which he was head, and by the faculty of applied science, of which he was dean, was in no small measure due to his labors. He was one of the most outstanding geologists of his time."

MAYOR'S TRIBUTE
Mayor G. G. McGeer M.P.P., said: "Dean Brock was distinctly the kind of man Vancouver or any other city should be proud to have as a citizen. He was a citizen with a wide range of interests and always ready to do his part as a good citizen."

In Victoria, to-day Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, said: "The news of the tragically sudden death of Dean R. W. Brock, chairman of the Vancouver Harbor Board, and of Mrs. Brock, comes as a shock to myself and other members of the Provincial Mines Department."

"It is difficult to find words to express our sense of loss. As everyone recognized who had the privilege of his acquaintance, Dean Brock was a man of the highest standards as a citizen. His training directed his interests to problems relating to geology and mining engineering, and the work he did in Canada while director of the Geological Survey and Federal Deputy Minister of Mines, was of such character that his name will live."

"His memory will be treasured by the alumni of the University of British Columbia, to whom he lectured as a member of the faculty of applied science, giving of his wide and deep knowledge, and of his experience, in their training for professional activity."

"There are hundreds of young men in this province who will recall many personal kindnesses in the way of advice and assistance extended during their university career. Dean Brock's familiar and genial figure will be greatly missed in the regular gatherings at the university, and in connection with the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy (British Columbia division)."

"It is only possible to add that sincere sympathy is offered the bereaved family of the late Dean Brock and Mrs. Brock.

LOSS TO CANADA
Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, said:

"Although I had only a short personal acquaintance with Dean Brock, I was deeply shocked to learn of his tragic passing. I had the greatest respect for him and sincerely believe his death is a distinct loss to Canada as a whole, and particularly to British Columbia. I took a great liking to him in the short time I had known him."

MESSAGE FROM OTTAWA
Vancouver, July 31.—The Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners has received the following telegram from Hon. Groote Stirling, Minister of National Defence in the Dominion government:

"Deeply regret and disaster which has removed your president and desire to convey to you the sympathy of the government and myself in the loss of so eminent a public servant."

COMMISSIONER AND PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL, agreed with Mr. Eden that the limitation of the discussion was merely a temporary decision and did not, in any way, bind the Council's future activities.

UNLAWFUL AFFAIR
Baron Aloisi declared it was essential, first of all, that a full light be thrown on the Tsalal incident of last December in which both Italians and Ethiopians were slain.

"Nothing can usefully be done until that incident is cleared up," said the Italian, adding the Council could not go outside that phrase of the problem. Italy could not agree to any wider debate and he insisted that League procedure always called for the opportunity of arbitration to settle disputes.

Mr. Eden and Premier Laval of France were asked to negotiate with Italy and Ethiopia because they represent the powers most directly interested and are parties, with Italy, to the three-power agreement of 1902 by which Ethiopia's independence was guaranteed.

GROWS WORSE
Said Professor Jaze: "The general situation between Italy and Ethiopia is growing worse daily." He declared there were two facts before the Council: 1. Arbitration, which had collapsed; 2. The general question of the dispute in its entirety, a question which was not settled and which should be settled.

Premier Laval commented that both parties seemed to agree the arbitration had broken down, but they disagreed as to who was to blame.

"It is the duty of the Council," he said, "to find a formula for the resumption of arbitration and, if possible, a peaceful solution for the dispute."

When Mr. Eden indicated the agenda of the session must not be considered as permanently limited, Baron Aloisi interposed. "I must ask permission to make a full reservation on this point. Italy can only discuss arbitration at this time," he said.

Professor Jaze accepted the postponement until to-morrow in the hope a solution might be found, but announced Ethiopia would not agree to a restricted agenda.

Mr. Litvinoff was asked to work with Premier Laval and Mr. Eden in an endeavor to find a quick formula.

NO CREDITS IN BRITAIN
Canadian Press from Havre.

London, July 31.—Italy is actively seeking British credit to finance its African forces. The London Daily Telegraph reported to-day. It added that British bankers undoubtedly would turn a deaf ear to the Italian requests.

British circles are agreed an international mandate would be an ideal solution of the problem, but they also are convinced there can be no question of British or France expelling Ethiopia from the League of Nations.

The emperor, it was said, was sending his crown jewels and large amounts of gold to London for safekeeping in the event of war between his country and Italy.

ITALIAN SUPPLY MONOPOLY
Associated Press

Rome, July 31.—A government monopoly for purchase of copper and other minerals and coal and coke from abroad to maintain Italy's East African forces in fighting, it was announced to-day.

The monopoly will be instituted beginning to-morrow, but the royal decree authorizing its creation said private operators would be given "a reasonable period" of one month to liquidate their contracts.

PLANE FOR ETHIOPIA
Paris, July 31.—(Canadian Press from Havre).—Despite denials by the official German news agency of its existence, reports to-day persisted that a giant German bombing plane is en route to Ethiopia.

The plane, carrying machine guns and ninety heavy bombs, was reported yesterday forced down on Roumanian territory, but it was said the plane was allowed to go on its way on request from the German legation in Bucharest. It next stop was supposed to be Istanbul.

GERMAN DENIAL
Berlin, July 31.—(Canadian Press from Havre).—A British press agency report to the effect a giant German bombing plane carrying fifty bombs and equipped with two turrets was forced down by Roumanian pursuit planes while en route to Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, was denied by the German news bureau (D.N.V.).

The German air ministry stated through the official news agency that the Reich possessed no such plane, and that Germany was not supplying war materials of any kind to Ethiopia.

U.S. To Reduce Wheat Acreage

Agricultural Administration Makes Plans For Years 1936 to 1939

Associated Press
Washington, July 31.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today a 15 per cent reduction in United States wheat acreage in 1936 will be required of farmers who sign contracts to adjust production.

At the same time, Chester C. Davis, farm administrator, told farmers if the Supreme Court should rule out the AAA programme, the government would pay them for their "compliance" up to the "date of such a decision."

"Even if an adverse decision by the Supreme Court should materialize at some future time, the contract firsts present form is admirably devised to protect both the farmers and the government."

OPTION OF WITHDRAWAL

The new contract will cover the crop years 1936-39 inclusive. It will be subject to termination at the end of any marketing year by the Secretary of Agriculture, and any grower will be given the option of withdrawal at the end of the first two-year period.

The AAA, officials said, will seek to place from 80,000,000 to 85,000,000 acres of wheat land under contract. In 1933 approximately 11,000,000 acres were placed under contract, and a 15 per cent acreage reduction was required for 1934. The contract will provide for acreage adjustment to a maximum of 25 per cent in subsequent years.

Under the new contracts, farmers can not plant more than 85 per cent of the base acreage (1930-32 average), nor less than 84 per cent of the base acreage for 1935. The contracts will provide for acreage adjustment to a maximum of 25 per cent in subsequent years.

POLICE ACTS CRITICIZED

J. S. Woodworth, C.C.F. Leader, Urges Regina Riots Be Investigated

Canadian Press
Regina, July 31.—"When the police usurp the function of judge, jury and executioner, as well as law-giver, it is time we called a halt," said J. S. Woodworth, M.P., national leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, speaking here yesterday evening of the Dominion Day riots in Regina.

He was addressing about 1,500 citizens in the interests of Dr. Hugh MacLean, C.C.F. candidate in Regina. Attacking the manner in which the whole relief camp strike was handled by the federal government, Mr. Woodworth said:

"I hope your Liberal government has backbone enough to see an investigation is made."

He wanted to know if the B.N.A. Act had been changed between the time the men left Vancouver and the time they reached Regina.

"Why could Bennett's act in Regina stop the trekkers, if he found it impossible to act in Vancouver?" he asked. "Why were these men arrested?"

STEVENS GETS NOMINATION

Reconstruction Leader to Run in East Kootenay; Speaks in Cranbrook

Canadian Press

Cranbrook, B.C., July 31.—Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader of the Reconstruction Party, was given the unanimous nomination of a convention attended by about 120 delegates from various parts of the East Kootenay riding here yesterday. No other name was mentioned for nomination. Later a public meeting was addressed by the leader.

The nomination was moved by H. C. Oliver of Creston, B.C., and seconded by Alan Graham of Cranbrook.

Previous to the nomination, Sherwood Herchmer of Penticton, B.C., was appointed general organizer for the Reconstruction Party in East Kootenay.

Mr. Stevens represented East Kootenay in the Parliament which is about to be dissolved.

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Stevens said that by virtue of it he was being officially launched as the leader of a new movement in Canada. He dealt with some of the reasons which, he said, had led him to accept leadership of the Reconstruction Party.

"I am not leading a revolt against constituted authority," he said. "This movement is an effort to restore constituted authority to its real sense. He believed the federal government within its own constitutional field could do a great deal more for the Canadian people."

NEW RULES

"We must have new rules to meet new conditions," the speaker said. "They laughed in Ottawa when they heard of the new party," he declared, "but they are not laughing to-day."

INTEREST AND DIVIDEND

"All the producers in the country have lost, and lost, and lost in the last five years," the speaker asserted. The only persons who had gained appreciably were those who drew interest and dividends. Their returns had actually gone up by about 30 per cent in that period. The inevitable result of that would be control of everything by a small group of wealthy persons. "But that is not going to happen."

In Canada to-day there was a tremendous concentration of capital. "One man alone, Sir Herbert Holt, virtually controls organizations representing $4,000,000,000 of capital," said Mr. Stevens.

LAND DISCUSSION

At the public meeting in the evening Mr. Stevens said certain large Canadian mortgage companies which had turned back on them were "planning to unload it on a long-suffering public" by virtue of the new government housing bill.

He served notice on Canadian meat packing organizations that if the Reconstruction Party was elected to power the farmers would be considered. "As sure as the farmers will have the first opportunity and not the packers," he declared in pleading for an organization to guard interests of the agriculturists.

Toronto, July 31.—A Reconstruction Party policy, involving reciprocal trade agreements, with extension of credit where necessary to countries able to absorb additional Canadian wheat, was before the public to-day.

An enlarged consumption of Canadian wheat was required, said a statement issued yesterday evening by Warren K. Cook, dominion chairman of the new federal party led by Hon. H. H. Stevens. The statement claimed the new Dominion Wheat Board only "shifted the responsibility of the handling of the wheat situation from the shoulders of one man to those of a commission of three."

The party was said to have found the wheat problem "is not as hopeless as might appear," and the statement urged reciprocal trade agreements with countries able to use more of the commodity than at present consumed.

WHEAT PRIZES

Regina, July 31 (Canadian Press).—W. Margerson of Paynton, Sask., was crowned Saskatchewan wheat king for 1935 at Regina exhibition yesterday. He won the championship trophy for wheat other than marquis, the grand champion wheat trophy and the special field husbandry association trophy. The latter trophy is retained by the winner.

South Africa's Business Gains

Advance Described at Vancouver By Trade Commissioner Meyer

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 31.—South Africans are enjoying a period of prosperity almost reaching the proportions of a boom, while most of the world is suffering from depression, David de Weal Meyer, South African Trade Commissioner to Canada, said in an address to a service club here yesterday.

He said millions of dollars of new wealth was created when the country went off the gold standard, and in 1934 South Africa increased her purchases from Canada from $5,700,000 to more than $12,000,000, and became the second largest purchaser of goods from Great Britain.

Canada's purchases from South Africa during 1934 dropped $1,500,000. During the first five months of this year and still showed a surplus of Canada rose $1,000,000.

The railways there, government owned, had restored all wage cuts last year and still showed a surplus of $5,000,000 at the end of the year, he said.

South Africa's unemployment problem was not great, and those receiving relief were required to work on roads, or if physically unfit for that work were given lighter employment.

CRITICS SCORE SHAW'S PLAY

But English Public Enjoys "The Simpleton of the Unexpected Isles"

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION

 Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, July 31.—"The Simpleton of the Unexpected Isles" Bernard Shaw's new play produced for the first time in England at the Malvern Festival Monday evening, received little better treatment from the English critics than it got when originally staged in New York.

Shaw himself, in a note in the festival booklet, refers to a certain New Yorker describing him as "a dignified monkey throwing coconuts at a bewildering public." To which Shaw retorts, "The monkey, no matter how fast he scampers, can never overtake the carrot."

The London News-Chronicle labels the play a fantastic farce below Shaw's usual level, redeemed only by the last act scourging the idle and worthless.

"A bloodless hat with trimmings snapper than usual," says The London Daily Express. The London Daily Herald describes the play as "a mental titillation and an intellectual vaudeville—and as such, your money's worth."

The Manchester Guardian's critic wrote: "Shaw has told us so often we are a pack of fools, the truth of this is not increased by repetition."

Yet all critics agree the audience itself remained intensely loyal to Shaw, and he received a great ovation.

DEATHS IN HAT RIOTS

 Canadian Press
London, July 31.—Dispatches from Istanbul say thirty policemen and a number of civilians were killed in a riot at Mehed, East Iran (formerly Mesh-Hade, Persia), following priests' denunciation of a government order that hats must replace the traditional native headgear.

Six hundred persons were said to have been arrested.

Meheh is the principal town in the province of Khorassan, where the inhabitants are extreme Mohammedans and dislike attempts at westernization.

U.S. TERRITORY SUGGESTION

Washington, July 31.—Suggestions that Great Britain return to the United States land ceded to her in the Alaska boundary dispute as well as a strip of Canada along the St. Lawrence as credits on her war debt were made in the Senate yesterday by Senator J. H. Lewis, Illinois Democrat.

He also proposed that France, in part payment of her obligations to this country, give the United States part of the island of Martinique in the West Indies.

Anti-war Negroes In Own Battle

Associated Press
Boston, July 31.—The threatened war between Italy and Ethiopia had a repercussion here yesterday as one man was stabbed in a street fight.

Hostilities broke out as a self-styled recruiting officer for a purported Ethiopian foreign legion waving a handbill approached two women on the street and tried to sell them the idea of their husbands fighting for Ethiopia.

The women showed such a burst of anti-war feeling that their husbands, bringing up the rear, piled into the "recruiting officer" without further ado, police said.

Clarence Jefferson, thirty-six, ops of the husbands, wound up in a hospital on the danger list. Police sought the "recruiting officer."

 Associated Press
New York, July 31.—Asserting there is not a family in the city of New York that does not pay tribute to the underworld every day, Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey called for public co-operation yesterday 600 a year.

Dewey, embarking on a two-year investigation of organized crime syndicates, promised to prosecute "any crime in the book," from malicious mischief to murder, if it is found to be connected with an organized racket.

He asserted it was his understanding the policy racket alone was yielding between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 a year.

 Canadian Press
Burnaby, B.C., July 31.—George Westcott, sixty-two-year-old veteran of the South African War, yesterday risked his life to rescue a fourteen-year-old girl named Kewrich from the swirling, snag-infested waters of the Fraser River at Jackman's Creek, ten miles east of New Westminster.

Westcott saw the girl in the deep water, being steadily swept down stream. Without thought of personal danger, he pulled off his outer clothing, ran along the bank and dived in. After reaching the girl, he was swept down stream 150 yards before he could make shore with her.

Then the girl's dress caught on a snag. To get her free, Westcott was forced to tear her dress off. Three times he made the bank of the stream only to be swept to midstream again when the overhanging bank caved in.

A piece of driftwood struck him at the base of the skull but, though nearly stunned, he carried on and finally made the bank for the fourth time, this time grasping a willow tree, to which he clung desperately.

FULED OUT
In a state of collapse, bleeding from the nose and mouth, Westcott, holding tight to the girl, was pulled to safety by Mr. and Mrs. James McEwen. They had been passing in their boat and stopped to give assistance.

After the girl had been taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. Kewrich, the child fainted, but was revived in fifteen minutes after artificial respiration had been applied.

Mr. Westcott formerly was swimming instructor for the London County Council board schools, England. He was superannuated from the Vancouver public works department last year.

In 1925, Mr. Westcott saved two children from death by drowning in Still Creek, Burnaby.

Prairie Farmers Call For Help

Regina, July 31.—A demand for 12,000 men is anticipated by the Saskatchewan Department of Labor for harvesting this year's heavy crop. It is expected the province will be able to take care of local requirements. Single unemployed men in camps will be expected to participate if physically fit, and it will not be necessary for the province to import men for this work.

SEEK MAN WHO REFUSED AID

Calgary, July 31.—City police to-day are attempting to locate a motorist who refused Sunday evening to take four-year-old Billie Barclay to a hospital after the lad had received injuries which later proved fatal. Police said persons who refused to aid seriously injured parties could be prosecuted under a section of the Criminal Code.

Mr. Westcott formerly was swimming instructor for the London County Council board schools, England. He was superannuated from the Vancouver public works department last year.

In 1925, Mr. Westcott saved two children from death by drowning in Still Creek, Burnaby.

NOTABLE CAREER ENDS

THE SHOCKING AIRPLANE TRAGEDY

which took place at Alta Lake yesterday has deprived Canada of a distinguished son and the world of science and education of a conspicuous figure. Dr. R. W. Brock had a personality which was not easily associated with mortality. His exceptional mental and physical powers, buoyant disposition, intensive varied interests, energy and enthusiasm, seemed to assure for him many years of outstanding service; and the fatal outcome of the accident which also killed his wife and the aviator of the airplane has been a major shock to a host of friends and admirers throughout the world.

Dr. Brock's career was notable in many aspects. Born in Perth, Ontario, he had an unusually spacious educational background, attending the University of Toronto, Queen's University, where he received his Master of Arts degree and graduated from the famed School of Mines, and Heidelberg University in Germany. For a time he was a member of the staff at Kingston, subsequently joining the Geological Survey at Ottawa. In that capacity he engaged in explorations in many parts of Canada, his chief field of operations, however, being in southern British Columbia. When the Department of Mines was organized in 1907 under the direction of Hon. William Templeman, Dr. Brock became director of the Geological Survey, and was widely known as a leading authority on Canadian geology. Some years later he became Deputy Minister of the federal Department of Mines.

He served overseas, especially in Palestine and Syria, and during his service his ability as a geologist was enlisted by the British government in exploration and research in the Near East. Subsequently he became Dean of the faculty of Applied Science in the University of British Columbia, which he developed into one of the most efficient educational establishments in Canada. From time to time he was chosen by governments abroad to conduct geological investigations in remote fields, notably in South China, while his marked ability and wide experience were called upon by geological authorities and interests at home and elsewhere.

A short time ago he was given indefinite leave of absence to enable him to act as chairman of the Vancouver Harbor Board, and occupied that post at the time of his death. This appointment, which he accepted at the solicitation of the Prime Minister, in itself implied a tribute to the diversity of his mental attainments and experience. He was a keen educationist, yet there was nothing monastic or pedantic about him. He had an intimate practical knowledge of an infinite variety of matters which had no connection with the channels of his main life's work. His experience as a geologist in remote regions, his contact with sturdy folk who are engaged in the development of the country's resources, his administration of important government services, his intimate association with the youth of the country in his university activities, gave him an understanding of human nature and Canada's affairs, a pervasive sense of humanity, and a capacity for adjusting himself to constantly changing conditions which few men possess, and he carried his sixty-one years lightly.

Dean Brock was a tower of strength to higher education in this province. He believed the University of British Columbia should play an important part in provincial development and should extend its facilities beyond its own walls. At the moment of his untimely death he was engaged in the extension of adult education, a subject in which he had been deeply interested for many years. There will be widespread sympathy with the four sons who have been bereft of a devoted father and mother by the fatal crash at Alta Lake.

CANADIAN PLATINUM

CANADA'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE world supply of platinum more than quadrupled during last year. At the same time the production of other metals of the platinum group more than doubled. The output of platinum in the Dominion is closely associated with nickel and, if that industry continues active, Canada is capable of providing the major part of the world demand for these precious metals. Cost of production of platinum and related metals in the Dominion is stated to be well below that of most producing countries.

The production of platinum in Canada in 1934 totaled 116,230 fine ounces with a value of $4,490,763. In 1933 the output was 24,786 ounces and the value $857,590. Of the platinum metals—palladium, rhodium, iridium, etc.—the production last year was 83,932 ounces and the value $1,699,282. In 1933 the output of the platinumoids had been 31,009 ounces and the value $645,044.

The great part of the platinumoid metal production of Canada is recovered in refining nickel-copper matte from the Sudbury district of Ontario. A minor amount of stream platinum is yielded by British Columbia placers and platinum and palladium are sometimes obtained in small quantities in the smelting operations at Trail, British Columbia. The chief producers of new platinum in Canada are the International Nickel Company of Canada and the Falconbridge Nickel Mines Ltd. The refinery of the latter is at Kristiansund, Norway, while that of the former is at Acton, in England. The Acton refinery of International Nickel has a capacity of 300,000 ounces per year of platinum group metals.

It is almost a certainty, according to a recent Dominion Government report, that additional discoveries of platinumiferous nickel-copper sulphides of the Sudbury type will be made in Canada. The resources of the Sudbury district are by no means fully explored, and in recent years little attempt has been made to develop new properties. In Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and on the coasts of Hudson Bay, discoveries of the Sudbury type have been made. In addition there are distinct possibilities of further discoveries in British Columbia of the Ural type of deposit that has placed Russia in the lead as a producer. Particularly is this so in the southern and north central, and possibly the northwestern, parts of the province, and also in the Yukon, in the St. Elias range. Not entirely dissimilar, also, are certain intrusives in the Mount Albert region of Gaspe and some other parts of southeastern Quebec.

WHO IS DELEGATE GEORGE?

THERE WAS A DISPATCH FROM MOSCOW yesterday which reported that Delegate George told the seventh congress of the Third International the membership of the Communist Party had doubled since the party was proclaimed illegal in Canada. Delegate George asserted that Communists led 90 per cent of all recent strikes in this country—a statement, according to the Moscow dispatch, which was greeted "enthusiastically."

Ninety per cent leadership of strikes in Canada in recent times would not mean very much. True, there has been a little trouble here and there, but the bewhiskered hand of the Third Internationale, despite the statement of Comrade George, has not been very noticeable. For the most part such discontent as has manifested itself in the Dominion has been the product of a governmental policy which has not recognized our basic problem, which has not taken any practical steps to deal with it.

Canada is barren ground in which to plant the seeds of a political experiment as put up in the cheap envelopes of Soviet Russia. This is a country of free owners. The Dominion and its people have too much to lose to embark upon imported new-fangled ideas. We do not know who Delegate George is; but what we do know is that he—if he be a Canadian—does not speak for even a small fraction of the Canadian people.

THE TWO BLACKS

THERE SEEMS TO BE A LITTLE CONFUSION in the family of Hon. George Black, M.P., former Speaker of the House of Commons. Obviously there is no domestic inco-ordination, but the situation is unusual.

Ill-health caused Mr. Black to relinquish his important position of Speaker of the House of Commons at Ottawa—a job he did remarkably well—and to announce that physical circumstances would require him to retire from public life. Then Mrs. Black, an active and very capable woman, and the wife of Hon. George, not desiring to permit the prestige of the Black family in Canadian political affairs to dwindle, conceived the idea of running herself.

After this, Hon. George Black got well—as every body hoped he would, for his sterling qualities alone—and, casting back his glances on his own and the Conservative Party's background, thought he might again carry the seat in the Yukon which he has represented for several years. Husband and wife have agreed to leave the decision to the electors of the constituency.

Men and women of the north, as represented by Mrs. Black, will surmise that the former Speaker of the House of Commons and his charming wife "rolled the bones" to decide the issue as far as they were concerned.

CARELESSNESS AT CROSSINGS

THE GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENT IS one of the leading contributors to the auto traffic death list. And the thing every driver should remember is that in most cases such accidents are the fault of the motorists themselves.

Figures compiled by the Pennsylvania Railroad System, for example, show that during the first four months of this year, one-third of all grade crossing accidents occurred when motorists drove into the sides of trains. And in exactly half of these cases, the train involved was either standing still or moving at a snail's pace of less than ten miles an hour.

The blithe carelessness with which some drivers approach railroad crossings could not be illustrated more clearly. It is sheer folly to drive up to any crossing without making absolutely sure that no train is in sight; but to blunder against a train that is actually on the crossing at the time is the next thing to simple suicide.

From Blairmore in Alberta comes the news that Tim Buck's name will shine in an electric sign from a billboard on "Tim Buck Boulevard" in the well-known Albertan mining town. The Council of Blairmore has decreed this innovation in honor of the Communist leader. So, from now on, we shall be obliged to say that Blairmore is a "little bit of Russia in the middle of Alberta."

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

THE RIGHT OF CHOICE
No choice is given to bird or beast
Twixt good and evil deed;
Tis theirs to live and drink and feast
And every impulse heed.

Of right and wrong they nothing know
And have no choice to make.
The strong need never mercy show
The weak for pity's sake.

But man to choose 'twixt good and bad
Was fashioned wholly free;
Because if such a choice he had
Then happier he would be.

For being good because he must
Would let no man rejoice.
The only joy of being just
Is that it's done by choice.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ALL FOR DEFENCE
The Hamilton Herald

And it (Congress) also has before it a bill appropriating $110,000,000 for the establishment of a far-flung defence base for the Army Air Corps. It is this last bill that favored "defending" the border between Canada and the United States. One defence item of the United States calls for new power bombers, capable of hurling tons of steel and TNT defensively upon foreign cities. Poison gas also is being manufactured in large quantities, purely for defence. So if the world again suffers from a major calamity such as the Great War, it will doubtless be all for defence.

Loose Ends

A. Wren, foreman, approaching death—A. Wren, 55, of London doesn't seem to know it—worms are made respectable—the movies run short of ideas—and that horse didn't finish last.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PREPAREDNESS

DISPATCHES from Edmonton convey the news that a wren has built her nest in Mervin Bruce's back yard out of 330 sharp nails, woven together with wire. At this there is great wonderment among ornithologists (bird lovers to you). The explanation, however, is quite obvious. With a protective instinct deeper than the dull apprehensions of man, the wren has built her nest with barb-wire entanglements in preparation for the approaching world war.

In due time the human family will imitate her. Everybody in England is getting a gas mask now and in France they have special gas chambers for babies. Autumn styles will doubtless produce infant's cribs, modeled on the wren's nest, with barbed wire entanglements and machine guns at top and bottom. Also, Canada is behind other nations in these preparations and a general election caught with hardly a gas mask among them.

HEN

FROM LONDON comes a report in the newspapers—it is really amazing how much miscellaneous information you can get out of the newspapers if you try hard enough—of a strange advertisement in a leading restaurant. It says that every egg served in this establishment in the "masterpieces of some country hen."

This is hardly surprising to us who live close to nature but it may be new to Londoners. But where do they think the eggs come from except from hens? Who else could lay them? I dare say that beyond even Mr. McGee or Mr. Abernethy, with all their theories of monetary expansion, the planned economy, etc., they cannot improve the present old-fashioned arrangement, a profound and somewhat humiliating thought showing the inferiority of the greatest statesmen to the poorest hen, and making you almost ready to vote in despair for Mr. Plunkett, who, in these important matters is the equal of Mr. McGee, Mr. Abernethy and Mr. Bennett himself.

The only organization which holds out any hope in this matter is Mr. Steven's Reconstruction Party, which, judging by its platform, has no limitations of nature at all. For it comfortably on the nest and nothing will be impossible. But one distrusts amateurs. I would rather depend on Mr. Pudbury's Rhode Island Reds. They are professionals.

MADDENING

A LITTLE book has just come off the presses in British Columbia to raise the fierce passions of all fishermen. (People who don't fish won't be interested in this paragraph, of course, but they are not worth bothering about anyway, having no souls.) The book is the work of that unequalled expert on British Columbia game, Mr. Bryan Williams, who, wisely forsaking the haunts of men, has spent most of his life in the wild. His methods of catching fish, his inward knowledge of the habits of fish, his detailed description of every fishing water in the country from one end to the other, are calculated to make any man with a spark of manhood in him throw up his job, invest his life's savings in fly hooks and rush into the wilderness with a glad shout.

At this season, when most men are torn between a fishing trip and their sense of obligation to their families, who always want to go to California, Mr. Williams's book is rather too dangerous and should be suppressed lest it cause serious trouble.

One is secretly glad, by the way, to note that this unvarnished British Columbia game authority has given the secret of his approval to the lowly worm. He says it is better to fish with worms than not to fish at all.

This will be a staggering blow to such immediate fly fishermen as Mr. Hairy Pooley, who would as soon think of eating worms as feeding them to fish. But to the majority of the population, particularly to fellows like Tom Morrison, who thinks that catching flounders is fishing, it will bring a wild secret joy.

You have it on authority of Mr. Williams that it is all right to use worms if you have to. Probably you'll have to, and you would anyway, but it's nice to know that you may still go to heaven when you die.

SINGLE IDEA

AT THIS season, after many brilliant successes earlier in the year, the movies seem to run out of ideas. I suppose they are like the rest of us. The summer is the low point of our intelligence, the nadir of inspiration. Anyway, Hollywood seems lately to have only one plot, presented in endless variations but always the same underneath. A man marries a lady and then goes off with some other lady or a series of them; but this, we are made to know, really doesn't mean anything. It would mean something, of course, if the lady went off with a series of gentlemen, but with husbands it seems, these things don't mean anything; not in Hollywood anyway.

So, after a series of arrangements, humiliations and tears the gentleman comes back and everything is lovely. The play ends before the gentleman can go off again, as he assuredly will do. Poor Joan Crawford has been the forgiving wife for months now. Husbands are always going on her and coming back and she is always forgiving them. Miss Hepburn has had the same experience lately in precisely the same plot. Miss Bernier has also forgiven and forgotten in an identical fashion.

You would think that there was no plot in the world but the erring husband, no theme for art but guided adultery. To tell the truth, one grows rather tired of adultery after a while even when well guided. There must be something else worth while in life if we could only find it.

APOLOGY

WHEN I murmured the other day, out of the bitterness of my personal experience, that horses picked by Leslie Fox, my young colleague, always finish last it seems I exaggerated; or rather the opposite. Anyway, Mr. Fox, whose reputation as a picker of horses is very high despite all experience to the contrary, was very annoyed. He said the horses he picked didn't always finish last. He said he had picked a horse to win in Vancouver last week and it didn't finish last. This is true. On further inquiry, it developed that the horse broke its leg half way around the track and didn't finish at all. So Mr. Fox deserves an apology and if you want to bet on his horses it's quite all right.

U.S. MAKING GAMES PLANS

New York, July 31.—The Amateur Athletics Union of the United States, while keeping an ear to the ground for reaction to Germany's anti-Jewish drive, is going forward steadily with its part of the plans for full American representation in the 1936 Olympic Games at Berlin.

"There has been no evidence of a change in this country's athletic sentiment or desire to send complete teams to Berlin," Daniel J. Ferris, national secretary-treasurer of the A.A.U., told the Associated Press today.

The A.A.U. is on record as opposed to Germany's anti-Semitic activities, insofar as they affect a fair deal for Jewish athletes. It can withdraw its support from the Olympic Games, it and when the situation justifies such drastic action.

"Personally, I believe the racial disputes and difficulties will blow over between now and the time for the Olympics. Germany has much at stake in holding the games."

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them. Letters not used will not be returned to the writers. Letters containing offensive personal reflections will not be printed.

These rules, which henceforth will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of the Times.

SOCIALISM

To the Editor:—The editorial columns of The Economist, in its July 30 issue, contain an article severely handling the followers of Socialism. It winds up in a facetious manner by quoting a line intended to illustrate its arguments. Let us use a similar method in rebuttal, the lady, in this case, being Freedom or Liberty, and the lion symbolizing Capitalism, thus:

There was a young maid called O'Brien,
Who went for a ride on a Lion.
Of that maid there is some
In the Lion's tum-tum-tum,
And the rest is an angel in Zion.
C. BRIDGES.
101 George Rd., July 30.

"TOO MANY MINISTERS"
To the Editor:—Reference "Socialist's" letter, "Too Many Ministers," in your issue of July 29.

"Men at some time are masters of their fates:
The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars,
But in ourselves, that we are underlings."

There are ministers and ministers. Go to the Bible yourself "Socialist"—you can read—and note the following from Chapter IV of the Acts of the Apostles: "Neither is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under Heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

"Salvation" here on God's earth—mark that "Socialist"—I for one, cannot believe that either Dr. Connell or Professor King Gordon are hypocrites; they, having discovered that salvation means "on this earth," and not as the so-called church in its superstition teaches, i.e., in the next world.

EVOLUTION

To the Editor:—"Ex-Malaya" is hopelessly mistaken in attacking my references to the "Negrito pygmies" of Malaya. As I quoted in inverted commas from Winsted's latest work "A History of Malaya (1933)" there is no justification for suggesting that I dealt with Winsted's works (plural) and classified the Sakals as Negrito pygmies. Winsted is speaking not of the Sakals but the Semangs of northern Malaya, a far more primitive type, in fact the wildest tribe known to anthropologists anywhere, of whose existence Ex-Malaya is obviously unaware. Winsted estimates their number at 2,000. (See "Strait Budget," May 2 ult.) These people are as wild as the wildest animal: so wild that Europeans have lived for years in their jungle habitats without even seeing them.

A good description of them can be read in Carver's little book on Malaya confirming Winsted's comment that "they differ little from apes." I have seen hundreds of Sakals but never a Semang. Mrs. Coley and her evolution protest movement claim the support of many "eminent naturalists," but in fact can only name two, Berg and Bateson, both convinced evolutionists, to whom the description applies. The three other persons named are so obscure that I cannot trace any reference to them as authorities in any one of the Constable Young lifted first place in the individual match for Canadian and U.S. police officers, while Const. Kelsberg took winning honors in the gas gun competition—an innovation at the meeting, scoring a bull with one of his shots.

Requests are being received daily from bureau and travel organizations throughout the world, the writers stating that they are experiencing a great and increasing demand for information concerning this city and island.

CASTLE REFUGE OF MARTIN LUTHER

THREATENED with excommunication from the church, and banned from the Holy Roman Empire by the Edict of Worms, for his daring assault on the authority of the Pope and the selling of indulgences, Martin Luther found refuge in one of Frederick of Saxony's castles at Wartburg. Hidden in this stronghold, the great founder of Lutheranism, in 1521, translated the New Testament from Greek, and wrote some of his most famous treatises. It was from here that he later went out into the country and began organizing his new church.

Travelers down the Rhine do not fail to visit the famous castle of Wartburg. For stamp collectors it may be found on the 5,000 mark value of 1923, and on the 40 pf. of 1922.

PRAIRIE FARMERS GET HIGH PRICES

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 31.—Prairie farmers who pooled their wheat to-day were receiving the highest prices for pooled wheat in the last five years, it was disclosed in price announcements from Calgary and Winnipeg.

The Alberta Wheat Pool announced a final payment on the 1934-35 pool, which terminated July 15, of 12.71 cents, to make the total payment 77.71 cents a bushel on No. 1 northern on a Vancouver price basis. Last year the payment was 65.063 cents a bushel.

The Manitoba Pool announced a final payment of 15.66 cents, to make the total payment for No. 1 northern on a Fort William basis 80.66 cents a bushel. The payment for the previous pool ending July 15, 1934, was 65.011 cents a bushel.

Final payment by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool has not yet been announced.

For the pool terminating July 15, 1934, the Saskatchewan growers who pooled their wheat received 66.78 cents a bushel, Fort William basis.

Amount of wheat sold on a pool basis was not available, but it was not expected to be large. Farmers who are members of the pool have the opportunity of selling their wheat through pool facilities on pool price basis or accepting the market price when the wheat is delivered to the elevators.

Regina, July 31 (Canadian Press).—Final payment cheques on the 1934-35 seasonal pool operated by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, amounting to slightly in excess of $250,000, are being mailed to-night to growers participating.

The final payment is 15.006 cents per bushel on the basis of No. 1 northern at Fort William, which, together with the initial payment of fifty cents and an interim payment of fifteen cents, brings the net sales price of this pool wheat to 80.005 cents.

Pending announcement of the policy of the projected Canadian Wheat Board the Wheat Pool has deemed it advisable to defer any final decision as to the operations of a seasonal pool for the coming season 1935-36. For the time being no deliveries will be accepted on a pooling basis.

NEW DESIGN FOR LIVING.

Modern cave dwellers, "at home" to the cameraman, are these jobless men who live in dry caves in the Ozarks. They feed themselves by hunting and picking berries, and sometimes do odd jobs on farms or in nearby Huntsville, Ark.

LIGHT FABRICS BRIGHTEN MEN'S DARKEST HOURS

Even Filmy Voile Now Is Used to Make Cool, Comfortable Pyjamas

Smartly comfortable in his tuckaway lounge pyjama, the host at the left comes in for a good-night cigarette with his guest, who is just as cool and stylish in pyjamas of sheer voile. Note that the guest is wearing a pullover model, with turnover collar.

By WALTER C. PARKES

You will be glad that the current campaign for comfort in men's summer clothing has been extended to pyjamas. Heat-dodgers in the dog-days can find sweet repose in short-sleeved knee-length night-clothes of feather weight materials.

The coolest sleeping garments are made of light cotton such as madras, broadcloth, solatite, seersucker and voile. Seersucker has the advantage of feeding no ironing. Voile sounds feminine but it is not. It is one of the thinnest and lightest of cotton weaves. Enough to make a pair of pyjamas has no more weight than a summer resort romance.

A growing demand for pyjamas that can do double-duty as lounging suits has brought out the "tuckaway" model. The top tucks inside the trousers which are made just like slacks, with fly-front, adjustable belted waistband pleats and pockets.

PULL-OVERS ARE POPULAR

Many men prefer the pull-over to the coat style top. A new version of this model has a turn-over collar with one button at the neckband. Another variation has a sport-shirt collar.

A national survey by a manufacturer indicated that many men wear only the tops of their sleeping suits. To serve their needs and save buying unwanted trousers, there has been designed a knee-length, double-breasted robe, with collar and belt. These are also useful as beach or house robes.

Some men whose daytime garb is as sober as a churchwarden's remove their inhibitions with their clothes at night and indulge in color blazes that range from mild stripes of stripes and checks to the d. t. effect of haywire "modernistic" patterns and vicious vermillions.

EUROPEAN GRAIN CROP

Rome, July 31 (Canadian press from Havas).—Estimates for Europe's grain crop indicate an abundant increase over 1934 harvest, a report of the International Institute of Agriculture says. The wheat crop now is estimated at 440,000,000 quintals (about 1,628,000,000 bushels).

EXPORT WHEAT

Ottawa, July 31 (Canadian Press).—Export clearances of wheat during the week ended July 26 amounted to 1,223,231 bushels, compared with 1,208,597 bushels the previous week, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported to-day. Export clearances for the corresponding week last year totalled 2,485,981 bushels.

Appointment of Fred C. Giles of the Mount Newton High School staff to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Edna Pearmain on the McKenzie Avenue school staff, has been announced by the Banff School Trustees. The board has awarded the 1935-36 transportation contract to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines for $4,800.

NEW BUILDING TOTAL UP AGAIN

Construction Contracts Running Highest in Four Years

Toronto, July 30.—Construction in Canada again shows an increase for the month of July. Contracts awarded, as compiled by Maclean Building Reports Limited, amounted to $18,849,200, as compared with $18,521,400 for June and $11,190,500 for July 1934.

This figure was made up by provinces as follows: Ontario, $8,819,700; Quebec, $5,122,500; Nova Scotia, $1,156,100; Alberta, $939,400; Manitoba, $849,600; British Columbia, $800,300; Saskatchewan, $664,700; New Brunswick, $298,400; Prince Edward Island, $39,500.

Contracts awarded for the year to date are the highest in four years. For the first seven months of 1935 they amounted to $94,143,700, an increase of 30.5 per cent over the 1934 total of $72,107,200. The 1933 total was $45,563,900 and that for 1932, $47,301,300. There is, therefore, an increase of 106.7 per cent over 1932 and 7.8 per cent over 1933.

Contemplated work reported on for the first time in July amounted to $20,332,100, bringing the year's total to date to $113,780,200, so that there is every indication of present activity being carried on well into the fall months.

LARGE AWARDS IN JULY

PLANE FORCED DOWN

Shediac, N.B., July 31 (Canadian Press).—The airplane carrying Dr. Alexander Forbes of Harvard University to Labrador for a mapping expedition was forced down here Monday night by engine trouble.

Pilot Charles J. Hubbard said he probably would leave here to-day to go back to Rockland and install a new engine.

Pirates of Venus

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1935

"However, Duare said that notwithstanding this, the captain made advances to her. I wish I might have known it while I was still aboard the Soving, that I might have killed him for his presumption." Kamlot's tone was bitter and he showed signs of unusual excitement.

"Let your mind rest at ease," I begged him. "Duare has been avenged."

"What do you mean?"

"I killed the captain myself," I explained.

He clapped a hand upon my shoulder, his eyes alight with pleasure. "Again you have won the undying gratitude of Vepaja," he cried.

"I wish that it might have been my good fortune to have killed the beast and thus wiped out the insults upon Vepaja, but if I could not be the one, then I am glad that it was you, Carson, rather than another."

I thought that he took the matter rather seriously and was placing too much importance upon the action of the Soving's captain, since it had resulted in no harm to the girl; but then, of course, I realized that here plays strange tricks upon a man's mental processes, so that an affront to a mistress might be magnified to the proportions of a national calamity.

"Well, it is all over now," I said, "and your sweetheart has been returned to you safe and sound."

At that he looked horrified. "My sweetheart?" he exclaimed. "In the name of the ancestors of all the jongs! Do you mean to tell me that you do not know who Duare is?"

"I thought of course that she was the girl you loved," I confessed. "Who is she?"

"Of course I love her," he explained; "all Vepaja loves her—she is the virgin daughter of a Vepajan jong!"

Had he been announcing the presence of a goddess on shipboard, his tone could have been no more reverential and awed. I endeavored to appear more impressed than I was, lest I offend him.

"By the way, I have word for you that should please you—a Vepajan would consider it a high honor, Duare desires to see you, that she may thank you personally. It is irregular, of course; but then circumstances have rendered strict adherence to the etiquette and customs of our country impracticable, if not impossible. Several hundred men have already spoken to her, and nearly all of them were enemies; so it can do no harm if she sees and speaks with her defender and her friend."

I did not understand what he was driving at, but I assented to what he had said and told him that I would pay my respects to the princess before the day was over.

I was very busy; and, if the truth must be told, I was not particularly excited about visiting the princess. In fact, I rather dreaded it, for I am not particularly keen about fawning and kowtowing to royalty or anything else; but I decided that out of respect for Kamlot's feelings I must get the thing over as soon as possible, and after he had left to attend to some duty, I made my way to the quarters allotted to Duare on the second deck.

The Amtorians do not knock on a door—they whistle. It is rather an improvement, I think, upon our custom. One has one's own distinctive whistle. Some of them are quite elaborate affairs. One soon learns to recognize the signals of one's friends. A knock merely informs you that some one wishes to enter; a whistle tells you the same thing and also reveals the identity of your caller.

My signal, which is very simple, consists of two short low notes followed by a higher longer note; and as I stood before the door of Duare and sounded this, my mind was not upon the princess within but upon another girl far away in the tree city of Koo-ssed, in Vepaja. She was often in my mind—the girl whom I had glimpsed but twice, so whom I had spoken but once, and that time to avow a love that had enveloped me as completely, spontaneously, and irrevocably as would death upon some future day.

In response to my signal a soft, feminine voice bade me enter. I stepped into the room and faced Duare. At sight of me, her eyes went wide and a quick flush mounted her cheeks. "You!" she exclaimed.

I was equally dumfounded—she was the girl from the garden of the jong!

CHAPTER XXVIII

What a strange contrivance! Its suddenness left me temporarily speechless; the embarrassment of Duare was only too obvious. Yet it was that unusual paradox, a happy contrivance, toward her, and there must have been a great deal more in my eyes than I realized, for she shrank back, flushing even more deeply than before.

"Don't touch me!" she whispered. "Don't dare!"

"Have I ever harmed you?" I asked. That question seemed to bring her confidence. She shook her head.

"No," she admitted, "you never have—physically. I sent for you to thank you for the service you have already rendered me; but I did not know it was you. I did not know that the Carson they spoke of was the man who—"

She stopped there and looked at me appealingly. "The man who told you in the garden of the jong that he loved you," I prompted her.

"Don't!" she cried. "Can't he be that you do not realize the offensiveness, the criminality of such a declaration?"

"Is it a crime to love you?" I asked.

"It is a crime to tell me so," she replied with something of haughtiness.

"Then I am a confirmed criminal," I replied, "for I cannot help telling you that I love you, whenever I see you."

"If that is the case, you must not see me again, for you must never again speak those words to me," she said, decisively. "Because of the service you have rendered me, I forgive you your past offenses; but do not repeat them."

"What if I can't help it?" I inquired.

"You must help it," she stated seriously; "it is a matter of life and death to you."

Her words puzzled me. "I do not understand what you mean," I admitted.

"Kamlot, Homan, any of the Vepajans aboard this ship would kill you if they knew," she replied. "The long, my father, would have you destroyed upon our return to Vepaja; it would all depend upon whom I told first."

I came a little closer to her and looked straight into her eyes. "You would never tell," I whispered.

"Why not? What makes you think that?" she demanded, but her voice quavered a little.

"Because you want me to love you," I challenged her.

She stamped her foot angrily. "You are beyond reason or forbearance or decency!" she exclaimed. "Leave my cabin at once; I do not wish ever to see you again."

Her bosom was heaving, her beautiful eyes were flashing, she was very close to me, and an impulse seized me to take her in my arms. I wanted to crush her body to mine; I wanted to cover her lips with kisses; but more than all else I wanted her love, and so I restrained myself, for fear that I might go too far and lose the chance to win the love that I felt was hovering just below the threshold of my consciousness. I do not know why I was so sure of that, but I was. I could not have brought myself to force my attentions upon a woman to whom they were repugnant, but from the first moment that I had seen this girl watching me from the garden in Vepaja, I had been impressed by an inner consciousness of her interest in me, her more than simple interest. It was just one of those things that are the children of old Chend Kab's training, a training that has made me infinitely more intuitive than a woman.

"I am sorry that you are sending me away into virtual exile," I said. "I do not feel that I deserve that, but of course the standards of your world are not the standards of mine. There a woman is not dishonored by the love of a man, or by its avowal, unless she is already married to another," and then of a sudden a thought occurred to me that should have occurred before. "Do you already belong to some man?" I demanded, chilled by the thought.

Woman Artist Takes Twenty-six Years To Copy Art Masterpiece

London, July 31.—A woman who believes it to be her mission to complete a work of art has sat in the National Art Gallery, Trafalgar Square, for twenty-three years copying a Dutch masterpiece.

She is Miss W. A. Guest, and she is devoting her life to a reproduction of Jan Gossaert de Mabuse's religious painting, "The Adoration of the Kings."

Miss Guest declares that it has been ordained that she should make the only copy of the work.

She sacrificed five minutes of her working time recently to tell a press representative that she hopes to complete her copy in another three years.

"Perhaps it will take longer," she added, "but whatever happens I know I shall be spared to complete my job on earth."

DEATH INTERVENES

Immediately the masterpiece was hung in the gallery in 1911, a woman started copying it, but her task was barely begun when she died.

It was then that Miss Guest dedicated herself to a life-long study of the masterpiece. And so for twenty-three years she has absorbed, worked, copied with unflinching enthusiasm.

The original was purchased privately for $86,000. America offered $100,000. It cost the National Gallery $200,000.

She believes her own copy will be worth at least $100,000. In its present uncompleted state, its worth has been assessed at $30,000.

Miss Guest said that one day a man approached her at the gallery. "Do you want to sell that when it's done?" he asked.

She demurred. "I'll give you $20," he offered. "He suffered his first rebuff, but went back."

"You'd laugh if I said $200?" he ventured.

She did laugh. The day before she had turned down a cheque for $10,000.

Miss Guest was asked if it were her intention to sell the copy. "That," she replied, "can be decided in another three or four years."

Her work is not proceeding without some amusing sidelights. The authorities became alarmed at the likelihood of having students perched in front of masterpieces for years on end. Something, they thought, ought to be done about it.

WILL NOT BUDGE

So they ruled that six months would be the time limit allowed for the purposes of copying an original.

When Miss Guest was acquainted with the new restriction she had been sitting in the same spot for twenty-two years. It soon became apparent that nothing short of an earthquake would budge her until she was ready to go.

And so the work goes on. . . . It is believed that Jan Gossaert de Mabuse conceived his subject and painted it between 1497 and 1507. Miss Guest thinks that it took him not less than twenty-seven years, which is approximately the period required for her copy.

DUKE OF KENT IN JUGOSLAVIA

He and the Duchess Presented With Novel Gifts By Municipality

Associated Press

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, July 31.—The Duke of Kent, with his wife, the former Princess Marina of Greece, returned to the scene of his romance yesterday to find himself the possessor of a new black vest with twenty-four silver buttons, a large red silk umbrella, high boots with tassels and a building site.

The Duchess received a Slovenian costume, complete with shawl of a hundred colors and jewelry.

The gift came from the municipality of Bled and at least one of them, the building site, was a broad hint that the couple establish a home here.

POPULAR GIRL BRIDE TO-DAY

Miss Kathleen Morrison Married This Afternoon to Mr. R. S. Hawkes

At the Belmont Street United Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock Rev. James Hood, in the presence of relatives and friends of the contracting parties, united in marriage Kathleen Annie, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morrison, 1605 Pembroke Street, and Mr. Robert Stanley Hawkes, son of Mrs. Hawkes, 1132 Yates Street, and the late Mr. William Hawkes of Victoria.

BRIDE IN LACE

The bride was given in marriage by her father and made a pretty picture in her wedding gown of white lace, the bodice of which was fashioned with coat effect, while the graceful skirt was floor-length.

She wore a lovely veil of silk net and Honiton lace, the lace forming a cap, which was caught at the back with a strand of orange blossoms, while panels of the lace were used in trimming the veil, falling over the shoulders.

She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses, pink sweet peas and pink carnations.

Attending the bride was her twin sister, Miss Dorothy Morrison, prettily gowned in turquoise blue lace, fashioned with long skirt and sleeveless bodice, which had a shoulder cape of the lace, edged with pleated net and adorned in front with pink gardenias. She wore a picture hat of blue straw, edged with pink mocha and trimmed with blue forget-me-nots. Her bouquet was composed of pink snapdragons and blue delphiniums.

The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. William Hawkes of Duncan, while the ushers were Messrs. Ella Jones and Thorkel Arnason.

Under the supervision of the sisters of the bride and friends, the church had been prettily decorated with summer flowers, and during the marriage service the bridal party stood under an arch of pink rambler roses. The guest pew was dignified with clusters of pink sweet peas.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Loretta Shanks rendered the vocal solo, "I Love You Truly." Miss G. Evans, the church organist, rendered the wedding music.

RECEPTION HELD

At the conclusion of the marriage service, a reception at which only relatives and intimate friends were present was held at the home of Mrs. T. A. Simmona, 1549 Pembroke Street, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Morrison, wearing a figured navy blue suit with hat to match. Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Hawkes each wore orange bouquets of Tallman roses and maidenhair fern.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkes left later by motor for Campbell River where the honeymoon will be spent. For travelling the bride chose a three-piece knitted suit in rosea green and an overcoat to match. Her hat and accessories were in brown.

On their return to Victoria they will make their home at 1642 Chandler Avenue.

Among the many wedding gifts was a silver tea set from the staff of Angus Campbell & Co. Ltd., Government Street, of which the bride has been a member for the last seven years.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. O. E. Cruise of Keating, an aunt of the bride, Mr. W. Hawkes of Duncan, brother of the groom, and Miss Winnie Hutchison of Duncan.

GREENWOOD—MOHR

A wedding of interest to many in Victoria took place at Wistaria, B.C., on July 8 when Miss Ruth Mohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mohr, of Wistaria, became the bride of Mr. Charles Frederick (Ted) Greenwood of Burns Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Greenwood, Falmouth Road, Victoria.

Rev. Harvey of Burns Lake performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, wearing a gown of pale blue silk crepe with organdie ruffles, was attended by Miss Lillian Christie, who wore a frock of pale blue organdie. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Daniel Trousdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood will make their home in Burns Lake, where for the last seven years the groom has resided.

ORGANISTS ARE IN CONFERENCE

Canadian Press Cable

London, July 31.—Dr. Healey Wilton of Toronto, speaking at the organist conference at the Royal College of Music, to-day declared the Anglican Church in Canada was at least thirty years behind the other churches in ceremonial music.

But he added Canadian church organists were in rather a better position than their English colleagues. The main idea of the cathedral service was to induce contemplation, but the young and vital Canadian mind did not approach religion from the contemplative angle, he said.

Canadian congregations regarded with jealous interest the size of the organ, the number of pipes and the mileage of its "intestines," and hankered to possess organs with chimera.

It has been found that mosquito eggs may hatch out four or five years after they have been laid.

Woman Directs Hawaii Budget

Miss Mary K. Hart, Holding
Unique Post in Honolulu,
Holidaying Here

As budget director of the Territorial Government of Hawaii, Miss Mary K. Hart, who is a guest at the Empress Hotel, holds a unique post in the women's business world. Her job is to advise on and keep track of what money the Hawaiian government spends.

Miss Hart came in from Honolulu yesterday by the Empress of Japan and after a short stay in the city plans to visit Klitas Lodge, Sprat Lake. Continuing her journey she will stay at The Chalet, Lake Louise and Banff Springs Hotel en route to Montreal and New York, from which point she will return to Hawaii via Central American points.

TO RESTORE RACE
Rehabilitation of the people of Hawaiian descent is occupying the attention of the Hawaiian government, Miss Hart states.

In this connection the government has established a homes commission, which directs a scheme of well-planned homes, the occupants of which must be fifty per cent Hawaiian. Intermarriage is encouraged in the effort to rehabilitate the fast-disappearing Hawaiian race.

The Territorial Government of Hawaii, which controls eight islands of the mid-Pacific group, meets biennially, the 1935 session having just been concluded, and Miss Hart is taking the opportunity of enjoying a well-earned vacation.

Good-looking, clever and business-like, Miss Hart is of Hawaiian descent.

Salt Lake City, July 31.—The engine of Clyde Freeman's airplane came apart above Salt Lake City yesterday. A rocket box from a cylinder head burst downward nearly 2,000 feet and crashed through the roof of the residence of George C. West, narrowly missing thirteen-year-old Barbara West in its swift passage through the dining-room.

Freeman brought the plane to a safe landing at the airport a half hour later.

Urges Churches Settle Problem

Canadian Press
Montreal, July 31.—A plea for the churches to get together "and see if a solution of the difficulty could not be found which would preserve the rights and liberties of all," was made yesterday evening by Rt. Rev. John C. Farthing, Bishop of Montreal, in a statement setting forth the Anglican church's protest against a recent Superior Court judgment concerning mixed marriages.

The judgment in question was rendered ten days ago by Mr. Justice Alfred Forest annulling a marriage of a Protestant to a Roman Catholic because it had been performed by a Protestant minister. The Superior Court judge held the famous Privy Council decision of 1921, which stated such marriages were valid, should be disregarded.

"It is far from our thought to do violence to the conscience of our Roman Catholic brethren," said Bishop Farthing, "but we have a conscience too, and we cannot surrender our liberty to minister to our own people, which liberty is guaranteed to us by the state."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DON'T WORRY ABOUT SIZE IF YOUR BABY GAINS AND IS HAPPY

To compare one baby with some other baby is the easy path to worry. There are fat and thin babies, stocky and delicate ones, for in infancy babies differ as much in their body builds as do adults.

A baby should make progress in relation to itself. The value of weight charts in guiding the mother's expectations is that they offer a measure of the "average." All that weight charts can indicate is that the weighing of thousands of three-month-old babies and averaging the weights will result in the figure 12. Which means that, by and large, more seven-pound-at-birth babies weigh twelve pounds at three months than weigh ten pounds or fourteen pounds at three months.

IS BABY UNDERFED?

Mrs. O. F. F. is trying to make herself dissatisfied with breast feeding. Her baby weighed 8 1/2 pounds at birth and at seven months has added 8 1/2 pounds more.

Please write something about breast-fed babies (as if I hadn't) and do they gain as rapidly as bottle-fed ones? Should they have sugar in some form? Is it possible for them to be underfed and still well, contented and smart?

"My baby has never had a fretful day nor a sleepless night. She has been sitting up since five and one-half months and has a marvelous color. I see such huge, gorgeous babies fed on bottles and my baby is so dainty and small."

WHAT OF SWIMMING?
"Please give nursing mothers a word of encouragement. What about swimming and traveling and weaning for five young mothers all of whom are nursing their first babies?"

Ordinarily, breast-fed babies gain faster the first six months and bottle-fed babies the second six months. Naturally, it is easier to determine the amount of food for the bottle-fed baby than the breast-fed one, but contentment, health and good development are sufficient indication that the baby is not underfed.

OTHER FOODS

It is more than possible that your baby has not been treated to generous amounts of orange juice, cereal, egg yolk, and sieved vegetables. The amount of sugar in breast milk is high—it has to be added to bottle formulas.

I would protect the breasts with brassieres if you swim. Travelling is more convenient when the baby is nursed than when bottle-fed. As for weaning, plan this for September and send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope and ask for "Weaning the Breast Fed Baby." Address Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper. The leaflet, "Feeding From Nine to Twelve Months," can be included with it and will show you in what way you are depriving the baby of enough of the essential foods.

To-morrow: "Babies Deserve To Have Diets Planned With Care."

COFFINS MADE IN THOUSANDS

Chinese Burying Bodies of Victims of Great Yangtze Flood

Associated Press.

Hankow, China, July 31.—A great pile of rude wooden coffins—a veritable mountain of the dead—is growing even higher on the banks of the Yangtze River near here.

Red Cross workers are pursuing their grim task of reclaiming the bodies of flood victims swept down from the inundated up-river districts. A corps of carpenters is working feverishly in an effort to provide the coffins in the huge numbers needed.

Every corpse must be encased in accordance with the Chinese belief that the spirits of the dead are doomed to eternal restlessness unless their bodies are decently interred.

Already 1500 of these unpainted wooden boxes are stacked along the banks while hundreds of other bodies await the construction of their last receptacles.

The bodies recovered are believed to represent only a fraction of the total loss of life in the floods as it is known tens of thousands of victims were trapped inside the walls of cities and behind dikes or swept seaward.

Hanna-Alta, July 31. (Canadian Press)—Robert Gardiner, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta, was nominated by acclamation as U.F.A. candidate in the Dominion riding of Acadia at a convention here yesterday evening.

Many Veterans To Go On Pilgrimage

Four Hundred British Columbia War Veterans and Relatives Will Be Included in Army of 5,000 Canadians Journeying to Europe Next Year to Participate in Unveiling of Historic Vimy Memorial

At least four hundred British Columbia war veterans and their relatives will make a tour of the battlefields of Europe next summer on the pilgrimage being organized by the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League. A dozen from Victoria have already made reservations, and it is probable this number will be increased.

The national committee of the Canadian Legion estimates that a minimum of 5,000 will make the pilgrimage next July when the Canadian war memorial on that historic battlefield will be unveiled.

The minimum quota of pilgrims from the remaining provinces are as follows: Alberta, 300; Saskatchewan, 300; Manitoba, 450; Ontario, 2,500; Nova Scotia and P.I., 300; and New Brunswick, 350.

It is expected that the journey will be made from Montreal to France either by Canadian Pacific or Cunard Star liners.

There has been a suggestion that a trip be made through the Panama Canal for the benefit of veterans living in British Columbia and other western points.

This suggestion will be discussed at the annual provincial conference of the Canadian Legion at Kamloops. The Victoria branch of the legion will send about twenty-four representatives to this conference.

HOW IT STARTED

The idea of a national pilgrimage to the battlefields first came about when the Canadian Legion was formed as part of the British Empire Service League in 1925. It was since decided that the pilgrimage would be made to coincide with the unveiling of Canada's war memorial, which would be definitely completed in 1936.

Leaving Canada next July 15 and 16, the pilgrimage will proceed direct to France, where three days, July 24, 25 and 26, will be spent on tour. The first two days will be spent in a visit to Ypres, Arras, Vimy and Amiens sectors. On July 26 they will assemble for the unveiling of Canada's War Memorial on Vimy Ridge. Following the unveiling ceremonies at Vimy the pilgrims will be transported to England, where four days will be spent in London. These four days, July 27, 28, 29, 30, will be occupied in other ceremonies, and will give opportunities for visiting relatives and friends in the Old Country.

During the ceremonies in London, respects will be paid to His Majesty the King, and ceremonies at the Cenotaph and at Westminster Abbey. A co-ordination committee is being set up in England now consisting of representatives of the High Commissioner for Canada, the Foreign Office, the Dominion office, empire headquarters of the B.E.S.L., Imperial War Graves Commission, Canadian Legion, members of the Empire Council, British Legion, Canadian Pacific Railway, Cunard White Star Line, Thos. Cook and Son, F.I.D.A.C. and Vimy Ridge Memorial committee.

The pilgrimage will sail home on July 21, but those desiring to stay overseas may do so at their own expense. Steamship tickets will be good to Canadian ports on any westbound sailing of the Canadian Pacific or Cunard White Star Lines within one year.

SOLENN NATURE

Of a solemn nature, the pilgrimage will be a journey to the land where Canadians fought and suffered, and where Canadians wish to honor their fellow countrymen, brother Britons and allies who made the supreme sacrifice. It will be a great occasion indeed when the fine memorial to Canada's war dead is unveiled before the assembled body of pilgrims.

It has been assured by the national committee that as far as possible every pilgrim will be granted every facility by Dominion and provincial governments, banking institutions, Canadian railway corporations, insurance companies, manufacturers, retailers and other employers, so that as many as possible of those eligible to participate in the pilgrimage may take advantage of it.

The Canadian Legion is arranging the pilgrimage at the lowest possible cost and without any profit whatever to that body.

MOOSE MARK ANNIVERSARY

Banquet and Sports Included in Celebrations

On Saturday evening last Victoria Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, gathered to celebrate their fifteenth anniversary.

After a short business session which included initiation of a class of new members, the lodge and their guests adjourned to the banquet hall.

Bro. Wm. Taylor proposed the toast to departed brethren which was responded to by all present standing in silence.

A sumptuous repast was prepared by Bro. O. J. Boulton and his committee a feature of which was the lighting of the fifteen candles by L. W. Cox, E. J. Monk, J. Pearce, J. G. Elliott, W. D. Taylor, Fred Moulton, Frank Moulton, D. Howe, J. G. Johnson, W. Davis, W. E. Evans, I. R. Cochrane, F. W. Zeigler, E. M. Haynes, R. T. Hurstville, who are charter members.

To Bro. W. Davis of Nanaimo, the oldest Moose on the island, fell the honor of extinguishing the candles. The cake was then cut and served to all present.

A programme of entertainment included some very fine numbers by the orchestra composed of Hawaiian guitars and ukuleles which were applauded to the echo.

Bro. Frank Merryfield, the Cornish wizard, gave a fine demonstration of his art. The evening came to a conclusion with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

PICNIC
Continuing the festivities a basket picnic was held on Sunday at Mount Douglas Park when many out-of-town visitors who had stayed over from the previous evening were guests among whom were noticed Bro. ## WILL DURANT COMING HERE

World-famous Writer On Philosophy and Civilization to Speak in Victoria

Dr. Will Durant, world-famous author, is coming to Victoria on August 9 and will speak at the Empire Theatre that evening.

When he lectured here two years ago in Russia, he was greeted by one of the largest lecture crowds in the experience of Victoria.

Dr. Durant has been on a tour of the Pacific Coast following the publication of the first volume of his monumental five-volume work, "The Story of Civilization."

His best known book is "The Story of Philosophy," of which more than 200,000 copies have been bought, establishing something of a record for a serious, non-fiction book. In addition to those who have bought "The Story of Philosophy," millions of other persons have read it as it has been one of the works most in demand in recent years from public and circulating libraries.

Robert J. Cromie, publisher of The Vancouver Sun, has asked Dr. Durant to lecture in Victoria and Vancouver during his western trip.

"I undertook it myself to bring him here because I think one of the finest things we could do would be to give our people an opportunity to enjoy a mind like his," Mr. Cromie said today.

The subject Dr. Durant will take for his Victoria lecture will be "Is Progress Real?" In this he will discuss whether North America must go through revolution.

HOME RUN PARADE

The battle for last place in the Big Six found another newcomer moving up as Roger Cramer, of the Athletics, yesterday joined Mickey Cochrane, Mondy's new arrival, and Jimmy Fox was forced out of the picture.

Fox dropped four points to 331 as he went hitless against the Yankees, and Joe Vossik, of Cleveland, best of the American League clouters, dropped three when he failed to connect against the White Sox. The rest of the leaders, with the exception of Jimmy Bucher, of the Dodgers, who did not play, added points to their averages.

Chicago Threatens Again In American League Baseball

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THAT FINE brot of a boy who threw Jim Londee was christened Daniel Michael O'Mahony Jr. There is no "e" between the "n" and the "y" of the last name, although there probably always will be on the sports pages because that's the way they started to spell it when the lanky Irishman launched his hurricane drive to the world heavyweight championship in Boston last winter.

O'Mahony is a handsome and ruddy-chested chap of twenty-two, with beaming shoulders making his 225 pounds and six feet two inches even more impressive. Dan is built more like a boxer than a brawler. As in the case of Joe Stecher, there is a total absence of the bulging muscles one expects in a grappler. The young man from West Cork has bright blue eyes, raven hair, a firmly set jaw, and fine teeth.

O'Mahony has a pleasant brogue, and a high-pitched voice like Jack Dempsey. He is as calm and bashful as Joe Louis, and as modest as Wild Bill Hallahan.

O'Mahony made his first fight in defending four younger brothers when a group of kids started to bury their chins in the soil of his father's farm hard on the village of Ballydeob. And it's worth the price of a ticket to a championship match to hear Dan pronounce Ballydeob.

Danno never dreamed of going in for professional sports when he and his brothers were getting up with the chickens to milk the cows, till the soil, and perform odd chores on the O'Mahony farm. The Celtic specialist in track and field, Gaelic football, hurling, swimming, and horseback riding.

"Before I took up wrestling my only athletic ambition was to become champion at breaking the fifty-six-pound weight," beams O'Mahony. "I attribute my success in this new field to my father, who insisted that I defend my four brothers whenever any boys came to the farm looking for trouble."

O'Mahony is on furlough from the Irish Free State army. Danno has another year of a four-year enlistment to serve, but hopes to have it postponed. He would go home this summer even if it were not compulsory, however, for he wants his parents and relatives to see him as champion. O'Mahony was the champion boxer of the Irish Free State army when he was told that he would be more likely to get along in the United States as a wrestler.

Billy Reilly, a former Boston middleweight, who saw O'Mahony in amateur competition on the other side, recommended him as a championship prospect to Paul Bowser, the Irish Free State army when he was told that he would be more likely to get along in the United States as a wrestler.

O'Mahony may be a raw meat man, but credits the hard muscles in his arms and legs to Irish potatoes and milk.

"I throw Londee because he couldn't throw me," explains Danno. "I'm too strong for him. Jimmy's good, but I don't believe that he's eaten enough Irish potatoes or drunk enough milk. You know boys who are raised on farms seldom drink tea and coffee. I've never touched either, and I drink at least a dozen glasses of milk a day."

As O'Mahony points out, his earlier experience has come in handy, for American wrestling isn't wrestling at all—it's fighting. Danno came well prepared, for he explains that grappling is "just as dirty in England as it is in America."

O'Mahony likes America, as he should, but asserts that at the outset it was difficult for him to understand the ways.

"People do things so fast over here," says Danno. "When I arrived in New York they hurried me off to an airplane for my introduction in Boston. But I've caught on since, and have been hopping from train to train, from hotel to hotel, and from mat to mat ever since."

The first ten years are going to be the hardest on O'Mahony's adversaries, for he guesses that he can stand this hopping around for that length of time.

Like all modern wrestling luminaries, O'Mahony has an original and special form of attack. Danno is the Irish whip. The Mick grasps his opponent's right wrist and jerks his rival forward. Instead of being jerked by a body check, the other behemoth finds himself pulled past O'Ma-

White Sox Creep Within Game of New York Yanks

Whip Cleveland Indians 8 to 6; Yanks and Detroit Are Both Beaten

CUBS ONE GAME BEHIND GIANTS

Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees, all tangled up in the fight for the American League lead, might pause with good effect to-day and take a peek back over their shoulders.

Jimmy Dykes, Chicago White Sox are coming on again, and there's more than a little possibility as far as the two leaders are concerned the situation is going to get a lot tougher before it gets easier.

White Sox have held grimly to third place. Now they're back from a long stretch on the road. They play thirty-two of their next forty games on the friendly home lot of Comiskey Park. To-day they're nominally one game behind the second place Yankees and three and one-half behind the pace setting Detroit Tigers.

Opening their big home stay yesterday, White Sox whipped Cleveland 8 to 6 and chipped a full game from the leaders' margins as Tigers bowed to the tough St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4, and Yanks were nosed out by Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 5 in a day full of underdog uprisings in both the American and National Leagues.

CUBS WIN ANOTHER

At the same time Chicago Cubs, just launching themselves on a long road excursion, got off to a fine start by thumping Pittsburgh Pirates 9 to 6, cutting another half game into New York's lead as giants split a double header with Phillies. Cubs, on a ten-game winning streak, with twenty-two victories to show in the last twenty-five starts, now are but a single game back in second place.

Johnny Verges and Joe Bowman, former Giants, clipped the New York cause yesterday, teaming to win the first game for the Phillies 11 to 5. Bowman held the Giants to ten hits and was never in serious trouble while Verges hit two homers. Hal Schumacher put the Phillies in their stride, singled home the winning run in the ninth. Boston Braves and Brooklyn had a day off.

While home runs by Finky Higgins and Paul Richards were beating Red Ruffing and Yanks for the A's, Brownie polished off Schoolboy Rowe, who has been having a tough time of it lately. The Tigers went down fighting again after the Browns led once 5 to 0.

Fritz Ostermueller, of the Boston Red Sox, pitched a weird game, beating Washington 11 to 4. He allowed only four hits but walked twelve as five Washington pitchers issued ten themselves and were stung for thirteen hits besides.

COAST LEAGUE

Los Angeles is down another notch in the Coast Baseball League to-day, thanks to the walkathon the Angels staged as they opened the week's entertainment for the top notch San Francisco Giants.

Thirteen walks to first base were taken yesterday evening, eight of them from Mike Meola and Newell Kimball, Angel pitchers, who also donated thirteen hits as the Seals won 10 to 3.

Old Clarence Mitchell, dean of the circuit's spitball hurlers, and Wally Hebert, young southpaw of Hollywood, hooked up in a tight pitchers' duel which the Missions won, 4 to 3.

Sacramento did its best to get back to the cellar by losing to Portland 5 to 1.

Dick Barrett whiffed twelve Oakland batters while his heavy hitting Seattle teammates slugged out a 9 to 1 victory.

hony and whirled over the Irishman's shoulder in a flying mare that often spells finish.

The Irish whip flung the skillful Jim Browning and other stars to quick defeat, but is only one hold of an extensive repertoire.

O'Mahony has not lost a fall in sixty-odd matches in the United States. Either he can wrestle or they've done an excellent job of building him up.

BRITISH NET SQUAD SAILS

Southampton, Eng., July 31.—The British Wightman Cup team sailed on the liner Majestic to-day to meet the picked United States women's tennis team at Forest Hills August 16 to 17.

Also sailing was Helen Jacobs, who lost to Helen Wills Moody in the all-England championship. She said she would be back next year for another try.

M. D. Horn, captain of the Wightman Cup team, said he thought the British squad had an excellent chance to win the international trophy for the first time since 1930, especially as Mrs. Moody has announced she will not play for the defenders.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, it fell to Samuel Johnson, a man ill fitted for the task, to write the first important dictionary of the English language. This work, once looked upon as a final authority where the English language was concerned, is now a literary curiosity. Johnson had little or no knowledge of any foreign language, and his lack of knowledge of even English is glaring. More than anything else, his personality gained for him an enviable position as virtual dictator of literary English in his day.

His own writings were of no great importance, and today we know Johnson's life so well only because a young lawyer, James Boswell, wrote a thorough biography of his hero.

The fear and superstition built up around various astronomical phenomena have changed the course of history in more than one instance. It was an eclipse of the moon that brought about the defeat of the Athenians in the fall of 433 B.C. Strange, too, is the fact that the leader, Micias, understood solar eclipses and did not fear them—but he did not understand lunar eclipses.

The army of Athens was on the point of being withdrawn from the field against the army of Syracuse. They were on shipboard and ready to flee when on the night of August 27 an eclipse of the moon occurred. Both armies advised Micias to delay his departure "thrice nine days"—he followed the advice. As a result his army was routed and he was executed.

To-morrow: "The Prison Prince."

HOPLITE IS RACE VICTOR

Captures Goodwood Stakes in England; Mallin in Second Position

Goodwood, Eng., July 31.—Capt. Lionel Montagu's four-year-old Hoplite to-day won the Goodwood Stakes, famous long-distance handicap, by four lengths over H. C. Sutton's Claran, T. B. Ellis's Night-weighted Mallin was beaten out of second place by a head. No de Paris finished fourth.

Hoplite started at odds of 100 to 6, carrying 123 pounds. Claran was 6 to 1 and carried 111 pounds and Mallin, starting at 20 to 1, carried ninety-nine pounds.

Fourteen handicap horses raced over the two miles and three furlongs of the feature race, first run in 1823. Claran was the winner last year.

Only three horses were named to start in the Goodwood Cup, feature of to-morrow's programme of the "Glorious Goodwood" meeting. Originally fifty-two were nominated, including Twenty Grand, famous United States campaigner.

The cup starters are Sir Abe Bailey's Tiberius and Cecil and N. S. Brigh's Dendex. Tiberius will carry 128 pounds over the cup course of two miles and five furlongs, with Weston up. Cecil will carry 124 pounds and Dendex, with Dines up, 101 pounds.

Western Canada Net Play Starts

Regina, July 31.—Defeat of Jimmy Thomson, crack Moose Jaw player, by Bert Turner, Regina, marked the first upset of the Western Canada tennis tournament, which got under full stride yesterday on the courts of the Regina Tennis Club.

Things went along smoothly during the day, without any unusual results. Winnipeg's McKush brothers came through with colors flying, both Otto and Edgit, winning their singles matches against Saskatchewan opponents, and pairing to win in the doubles.

YORKSHIRE IS OUT CHEAPLY

Scores 31 in First Innings of Cricket Match Against Essex Eleven

Huddersfield, Eng., July 31.—Yorkshire, many times champion and present leader of the county cricket competition hold the unenviable record of scoring the lowest number of runs in one inning in first class county cricket this season.

Playing against Essex to-day the powerful Yorkshire eleven, studded with test cricket players, could do nothing with the eastern county's fast bowlers, and were dismissed for thirty-one runs. H. D. Read and Morris Nichols, two of the fastest bowlers in England, were the stars of the game. In six overs, one a maiden, Read took six wickets for eleven runs and his international colleague captured for seventeen in the same number of overs.

Richardson is entered in the 100-yard dash, broad jump, high jump and the hop, step and jump. Neil Paterson, who defeated Bert Pearson in the Ontario championships last Wednesday, is a starter in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Bill Christie, Jack Smith, Tom Dougherty, Lyle Fleming, J. Stewart, George Watson and Art Loves are the other members of the club's nine-man squad. From the bank of athletes two relay teams will be picked for the 440 and the mile events.

Alberta, it was learned, expects to have a six-man squad entered in the various competitions, but so far only O. A. Riley, in the 440 and 880-yard races, has filed an entry.

Toronto, July 31.—Paul Runyon, White Plains, N.Y., United States Professional Golfers' Association champion, will make a bid for the Canadian open title this year. It was announced here yesterday by B. L. Anderson, secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association. The open will be played at the Summit Club, Montreal, on August 29, 30 and 31.

Dundee Suffering From Concussion

This evening at the Athletic Park Fred McMillan's Old-timers will meet the Comin-ral League all-stars in an exhibition baseball game. Two strong clubs have been lined up and both are confident of victory. In the first game between the two clubs the result was a 7 to 7 deadlock. Jimmy Dangers will open on the mound for the veterans and Jimmy Proudlove for the all-stars.

Former Middleweight Champion in Hospital Following Technical Knockout in Seattle at Hands of Freddie Steele; May Have Fractured Jaw

Seattle, July 31.—Vince Dundee, fighter and former middleweight champion of the world, who was knocked out here yesterday evening by Freddie Steele, Tacoma, is suffering from a concussion and probably a broken jaw. Dr. H. T. Buckner said to-day. Their fight ended in the third round.

"I am having some x-ray pictures taken and will know shortly the full extent of his injuries," Dr. Buckner, a leading physician here said.

Steele, sensational young Tacoma battler, found himself in the top flight of the nation's middleweight division, through the terrific beating he gave Dundee.

Steele took the veteran's measure by a technical knockout here yesterday evening when Referee Tommy McCarty, stopped the fight midway in the third round of what was listed as a ten-round bout. Dundee was knocked down eleven times by Steele's slashing two-handed attack before the fight ended.

Dundee landed not a single effective blow.

The Baltimore boy held a five-pound advantage in the weights, coming in at 158½ pounds, while Steele weighed 150½.

The fight by rounds:

ROUND ONE

They came out of their corners, stalking each other. Dundee shot a light left. Steele landed a right cross to the chin and threw both hands to the body. Steele sent Dundee to the canvas with a left hook to the chin and the crowd roared, anticipating an early knockout and left for the count of nine and tried to edge away from the Tacoma man, who stalked in and belted him again with rights and lefts. Dundee went down again and took a short count. He was up at four, with Steele chasing him and landing right and left with trip-hammer rapidity. Dundee managed to get most of the furious blows off his head and saved himself from punishment. Steele had him on the ropes and was battering him all the while.

ROUND TWO

Steele rushed out of his corner to continue the assault and Dundee quickly backed away, his left jabbing Steele's face a couple of times. Steele was short with his right. Dundee stabbed him again with that cautious left. Then Steele landed a right to the chin and Dundee went to the canvas. He was up at four, boxing warily, still trying to get away from Steele's terrific battering. Steele hit him with a left to the chin and Dundee fell to the floor again. Once more he rose to his feet, tottering. And once more Steele socked him, this time with a right. Dundee went down and came up, bravely to face the assault. He stared off more punishment, rolling his head and trying to keep away from Freddie with that left hand. Steele clouted him twice with rights and lefts, landed another left to the chin. Dundee went down for the fourth time in the round and rose to continue gamely, always trying to keep Steele away with that left hand until the bell ended the round.

ROUND THREE

Seenting the kill, Steele came out of his corner fast and met Dundee with a crushing rally of rights and lefts. A left caught Dundee on the chin before he could get away from the crushing Tacoma man and he went down. Dundee took a count of six, then rose to his feet. Steele was on him like a hawk and for the tenth time in three rounds clouted him to the canvas with a terrific series of blows. Referee Tommy McCarty looked over at Dundee's corner as the ex-middleweight king, battered and bleeding, rose to his knees to wait for the count. No towel fluttered in the Baltimore veteran's corner. McCarty stepped in and raised Steele's hand in victory, awarding him the fight on a technical knockout.

Jack Doyle Wins By Knockout Route

Associated Press
Elizabeth, N.J., July 31.—Jack Doyle, Irish heavyweight, knocked out Bob Norton, Elizabeth, negro, in 2 minutes and 18 seconds of the second round in their scheduled six-round battle yesterday evening at the East Broad Street Arena.

Doyle weighed 206½, and Norton 190.

Silent Glows-Bransdon's To Open City Softball Final

Smart Nines Play To-morrow Night; Bert Waude's Out

Burnermen Defeat Waude's 11 to 6 to Take Series in Two Straight Games

Heavy Schedule Next Few Days

To-morrow evening at the Athletic Park at 6.30 o'clock Bransdon's Boys and Silent Glows will open a best three-out-of-five game series for the senior men's softball championship of Victoria. On the same grounds yesterday evening Silent Glows qualified for the finals by taking their second straight game from Bert Waude's, 11 to 6.

Bransdon's Boys, who finished in first place in the regular league schedule, and the Silent Glows should put on a humdinger of a series, with the odds about even.

Yesterday evening's fracas saw the Silent Glows take a one-run lead in the first inning and increase their margin as the game progressed. Archie McBride, on the mound for Bert Waude's, offered no difficulties to the heavy hitters of the burnermen and extra base knocks rattled off their bats in nearly every inning.

HITS HOME RUN

One of the features was a home run by Lloyd Jones, ace hurler for Silent Glows.

Score by Innings—

Bert Waude's . . . 0 0 1 0 0 2 0 8—6

At Central Park lower diamond Krege's Reds won by default from Hudson's Bay, when the latter club failed to put in appearance.

Harvey's Cyclones, leading nine in the Junior Softball League, added another victory when they defeated Smelt's Machinists, 17 to 9. In another scheduled fixture, Strawberry Vale won from the Canucks by default.

In a junior division Sunday School League game, Y.M.C.A. Cyclones defeated Fairfield, 14 to 4.

came with three putts at both the eleventh and thirteenth holes yester-

a bad bounce from the green to a trap at the fifth yesterday afternoon,

which forced him to take two shots

to get out of the bunker.

In the two days of play Zimmerman shot 70-67-73-73, and Christian

BRIDGE LEVEL IS SETTLED

New Fraser River Structure to Have 147-foot Clearance

Clearance for the new Fraser River Bridge at New Westminster has been settled at 147 feet above freshet level at the centre of the span, it was learned to-day.

This level has been agreed upon between federal and provincial engineers to meet objections raised as to the clearance for ships. At one time the federal authorities had proposed the bridge level be 162 feet above high water. The original provincial plan called for 140 feet. The 147-foot level will permit the largest cargo vessels to pass beneath the bridge, experts state.

The height, the location of the bridge in the river, and the pilotage board's insistence on a lift span for the old bridge, when the new one was completed were the chief points at issue in approval of the plans.

With the decision to remove the old bridge announced by Premier Pattullo all points have been met, it was explained.

The government has not yet issued formal instructions to the contractors to start work, but is expected to do so shortly.

Editorials, letters to the editor, an etiquette column, a beauty department, society notes and "Howler" comments make diverting reading, and with a subtle touch the editor entertains without giving offence to anyone referred to in the columns.

SHRINE HEAD HERE

Imperial Potentate of the Mystic Shrine, L. P. Steuart, who is the guest of illustrious Potentate Dr. Frank M. Bryant of Gizeh Temple to-day and Thursday, is shown accepting a gift of fifteen silk Shrine flags for the "Crippled Children's Hospital" from H. J. Kilgler, president of Pontiac Motor Co. during the Shrine convention in Washington, D.C., last month. On the left is past Imperial Potentate W. Freeland Kendrick, former mayor of Philadelphia and the man who is credited with the Shrine Hospital idea. Mrs. Steuart and their daughter, Virginia, are accompanying Mr. Steuart on his official trip through the northwest.

SHRINE HEAD GREETED HERE

Imperial Potentate Planning For Great Convention in Seattle

Leonard P. Steuart, Imperial potentate of the Shrine, arrived here at noon to-day on his tour of the temples, to the overlordship of which he succeeded at the recent imperial convocation at Washington, D.C.

The imperial potentate, who is accompanied by Mrs. Steuart and their daughter, Virginia, was welcomed to Victoria by Most Illustrious Potentate Dr. Frank Bryant of Gizeh Temple, Walter Lunney, past potentate, and Mrs. Lunney; J. A. Worthington and Mrs. Worthington; Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins and Leo Grogan, recorder of Gizeh Temple.

The imperial potentate will be the guest at the Shrine dinner at the Empress Hotel this evening. This afternoon, he and his family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butcher at "Benvenuto," Brentwood. During his stay here, the imperial potentate will visit the Mill Bay Soldiers' Home for Crippled Children. He will leave for Vancouver Thursday afternoon.

Particular interest is attached to his visit to the Pacific northwest because of the selection of Seattle for the great Shrine convention next year. During the last couple of days, the imperial potentate and other high officials of the Shrine have been working in Seattle on arrangements for the session and the housing of delegates. They reserved 900 rooms at three hotels, the Olympic, New Washington and Gowman, for accredited convention delegates, and handed over to a local housing committee the duty of making arrangements for thousands of unofficial delegates who will come from all parts of the continent. It is expected that most of the delegates will be brought to Victoria during their visit to the Pacific northwest next summer.

Mr. Steuart is recognized as one of Washington's most successful businessmen. He is a director of General Motors, director of the Hamilton National Bank, director of the Acadia Mutual Life Insurance Company and prominent in the Washington Board of Trade. In spite of his many business connections he has found time to devote to the work of the Shrine and its charity hospitals for crippled children. He is also junior grand wardens of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia, A.F. and A.M.

The imperial potentate started on his present itinerary on July 9. He will return to Washington by August 13, after which he will start on his inspection tour of eastern temples.

Because of Mr. Steuart's prominence in the General Motors organization, Pontiac dealers were chosen to do the transportation honors and met the party to-day with a fleet of cars.

An event of the recent convention in Washington which obtained the official attendance and recognition of the imperial potentate, the imperial diwan and the entire imperial council was the public ceremony at which Pontiac Motor Company, through its president, H. J. Kilgler, presented fifteen silk Shrine flags to the fifteen Shrines' hospitals for crippled children. The flags were accepted by Imperial Potentate Steuart and past imperial potentate and head of all Shrines hospital activities, W. Freeland Kendrick, former mayor of Philadelphia.

The bank clearings in the city for the month of July amounted to $6,914,754, according to the Victoria Clearing House. The figure for the same period last year were $6,400,823.

Imperial Potentate Leonard P. Steuart, who arrived from Washington to-day on an official visit to Gizeh Temple.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Santa Monica, July 31.—To the Editor of The Times: Almee Semple McPherson's daughter is in the Ozarks, and the Arkansas sawyers notified her that she was welcome but that they didn't want to be "redeemed," "saved" or "liquorated." That's right, too. There is pretty strong characters down there. You can't redeem 'em. You just join 'em. That's what I had to do about twenty-seven years ago with one of 'em. Joe Robinson is another one. Leader of ninety-six picked men of the whole U.S. who are in the senate. Any time you tangle with an Arkansas hillbilly or hillbillyess, you are going to run second.

BY PLANE AND SHIP TO DAD

Victoria Boy Travels Down to South America to Visit His Father

Arthur Jukes, twelve-year-old Victoria schoolboy, is paying a visit to his father, whom he has not seen for some time.

A few days ago he left on the ferry for Seattle. From there he took a plane to San Francisco, where he boarded a boat for Carthage, Colombia, where his father is the sales manager for the Tropical Oil Company.

A report from San Francisco said that Arthur had left Toronto to see his father, and, due to the fact that it was the first time he had ever been outside his home town, photos of the boy were sent to airplane officials and the captain of the steamer in order that they might identify him.

Mrs. Hamilton Jukes, mother of the boy, termed the whole report ridiculous. Arthur had made the trip before, she said, and no photos were sent.

The young globe-trotter goes to Monterey School and resides at 1416 St. David Street.

HEAR PLAN TO EXTEND DRAIN

Oak Bay Council Considering Scheme to Relieve Lansdowne Homes

Extension of the new Bowker Avenue surface drain to relieve winter flooding in homes south of the Uplands golf links extending past the willows fair grounds, is being considered by the Oak Bay Council, it was learned at a special meeting yesterday.

The council considered an extensive report from the engineers on the project at present under way, which provides for the drainage of homes near the fair grounds which were flooded during last winter's heavy rainfall.

The new drain extends to the Willows beach, down Bowker Avenue. The work is progressing satisfactorily and should be completed by the end of September. All relief labor is being employed on it. The total cost will be $12,000.

The council was informed the new drain would be large enough to care for drainage of the area north of the fair grounds. The cost of extending the drains to include this section would range around $3,000.

While the scheme was considered no definite action was taken. The council finally passed by-laws providing for easements on properties through which the new drain will pass.

ARION SINGERS IN PROGRAMME

Male Choir Group Gives Excellent Concert in Beacon Hill Park

In the long and well-known history of that body of male singers, the Arion Club, one of its distinctive features has been its summer out-of-doors concerts. These yearly affairs are usually held on the front steps of the Parliament Buildings or Beacon Hill Park, and are philanthropic in nature.

This summer's event took place yesterday evening at the park, and the collection from an enthusiastic audience, despite the threatening weather, was taken on behalf of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, following an appeal from the Solarium's president, W. B. Langan, who reminded the audience that nearly 100 per cent of the children in the institution came from homes that were unable to give anything in the way of a fee or contribution for their treatment.

During the intermission the club's conductor, Herbert Kent, gave a sketch of the club's activities since its formation in 1892. Its first concert was given in 1893, and since then 109 regular concerts have been given, besides seventy-seven held for charitable purposes.

The programme, selected for the occasion, was particularly appropriate, varied and given throughout in happy vein. It opened with Spohr's finely conceived "Proudly as the Eagle," the excellently contrasting and ever-popular "Estadantina Waltz," and following were "Old Folks at Home" (Stephen Foster); the breezy song, "Rolling Down to Rio," always well done by the singers; the Swedish "Spin, Spin" (Jungst); the rhythmic folk song, "Turkey Song," by Matthews; Brahms' always beautiful "Lullaby" (unaccompanied), sung by request; the rollicking old English song, "John Peel," the well delivered "Hark, the Sound of Music"; Dudley Buck's well liked "At Sea"; the "Swamp Song," and the concluding, stimulating "Galloping Cossack War Song," by Horatio Parker.

The accompaniments were ably played by Mrs. Clifford Warn, the club's accompanist, who in sympathetic manner also accompanied the solo by two members of the choir, Thomas Kelway, leading tenor, in Handel's famous "Largo," and Mr. White, bass, in "A Drum Major," both meeting with insistent recalls, the former giving in good style and effectiveness an Italian prelude, and the latter "Cornish Dance."

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the nurses from the Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals, under the direction of Miss Russell, who took up the collection.

It was announced that the club will give a concert on the "Show Boat" in the Inner Harbour on Monday, August 12.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL

Many friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Clara Gathercole, which took place yesterday afternoon. Rev. Canon P. A. P. Chadwick conducted the service, during which the hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," was sung. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following pallbearers: Albert Dash, Harry Dash, William Dash, R. J. Chisholm, W. T. Strath and S. J. Ripley.

September 23 Election Day?

will begin the moment the date is announced and the proclamations issued. Mr. Child has taken the whole front part of the third floor of the Hibben-Bone Building. There staffs or assistants and deputies will be installed at once.

Victoria will be divided into 105 polling stations for election day. Mr. Child said. Each polling station will have its trained deputy and assistant officials.

As soon as the proclamation is issued, the returning officer will be ready to receive the names of those nominated as candidates by the various parties. He will receive names of nominees until the Monday preceding election day.

All registered voters will be sent by Mr. Child, during the week before voting day, a postcard giving the exact place and time for voting.

In the Victoria riding for this election, besides the city proper, there are included Oak Bay and Esquimalt municipalities, and the part of Saanich that falls into the city.

PREPARE FOR INDIAN SHOW

Arrangements Near Completion For Spectacular Event Here August 13

Progress in preparations for the Indian festival which will be one of the features of this year's Navy Week activities, was reported to-day in a letter received by Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins from Abel D. Joe, head of the Cowichan Indians, who will present the show.

The programme is rounding into shape and the leader has collected the Indians whom he will use in the spectacle. A practice will be held this week to ensure the perfection of the different dances and stunts.

Arrangements have been made for setting up certain equipment needed in the presentation and preliminary work in connection with it is virtually complete.

The event will be held on the evening of August 13. It is being staged under the auspices of the July 1 celebration committee, which is devoting the surplus that group had at the close of its Dominion Day functions towards the introduction of this novel event in the Navy Week programme.

Approval of the suggestion for a "no-parking" strip for a distance of thirty-five feet north from Yates Street on Blanshard Street, where passengers might board and leave Haultain Street buses safely, was expressed in a letter from Chief of Police Thomas Healey received at the City Hall to-day. In another letter the chief recommended the erection of stop signs on Simcoe Street west of Menzies Street, on Simcoe east of Menzies, and on Toronto Street east of Menzies. He further suggested that a pole on the northwest corner of Menzies and Simcoe Streets be moved onto Menzies Street about seventeen feet in the interests of safety.

Active Trading and Prices Firm Broad Advances on Wall Street Market AT MONTREAL On Winnipeg List

Associated Press
New York, July 31.—Led by public utilities, the stock market scored a "good advance" today that recovered most of the ground lost in Tuesday's decline. Gains among power and light shares ranged from one to more than three points, and in other groups, with the exception of metals, from fractions to more than a point, with many new 1935 highs established.

Trading was the most active since May 28 at approximately 1,900,000 shares.

The closing tone was strong. Although the performance was not as brilliant, leading commodities pointed sharply upward in most cases, with stocks.

Wheat advanced on the average of three cents a bushel following reports that crops had been severely damaged. Corn and oats were up to two cents a bushel higher, while cotton gained twenty-five to fifty cents a bale. The corporate bond market came to life during the final hour of trading with rail and utility issues in strong demand. A sharp rally in Holland guilders, which imparted a firm tone to other gold currencies, was the principal development in foreign exchange markets.

Among shares pushing through to new highs for 1935 were a long list of leading utilities, industrials and specialties.

Ivan Karzenoff turned as he heard the door open and close. Seeing the strange officer, he dropped the girl. "Explain this intrusion, Lieutenant," he demanded, noting the insignia on Tarzan's uniform. "Then get out of here!"

The ape-man made no articulate reply. But the two there with him heard a low gravel break from his lips. It sent a shudder through the girl, caused the Red's face to pale and sent his hand to his pistol. Even as he drew his weapon—

—it was wrested from him and hurled through the window. Then Tarzan backed against the door and slowly removed the uniform coat. "You are Ivan Karzenoff?" he asked the Red. "What of it?" demanded the latter. "I am Tarzan of the Apes!" replied the ape-man.

"NOW you know why I intrude!" The two before him stood aghast. The girl had recognized him now and knew her danger. With a quick movement, she reached for her pistol.

Let's Consider Unusual Heroine

Suggests Recognition Of Home Woman

WE HEAR a lot these days about the forgotten man, but nobody says a word about the forgotten woman. No tears are shed over her. No union champions her cause. No laws are passed for the amelioration of her condition. Nobody puts on her humble head the crown of the martyr. There is nothing beautiful, nor glamorous, nor scintillating about her to turn the spotlight upon her and catch the public eye.

She is just the everyday, commonplace wife and mother, who goes along making a home and rearing a family and bringing up children and holding civilization together, but doing it so quietly and inconspicuously that nobody knows she is doing one of the world's greatest tasks. Last of all, she knows it herself, for she often expresses the wish that she could do something, some worthwhile work, for her day and generation.

The women we talk about are those who do spectacular things. Such as flying, like Miss Earhart, through the blackness of night over mountain tops and across the vast waters of oceans. There is courage for you. There is grit. But nobody pins any hero medals on the breasts of the millions of women who every day risk death by torture to carry on the torch of life.

And nobody ever dreams of its being a conspicuous exhibition of bravery for a woman to nurse her child through an attack of a malignant disease so contagious that the house is quarantined. It is just a matter of course. What every mother does.

We celebrate the women scientists, authors, educators, and inscribe their names in letters of gold on the feminine roll of fame, but we never notice their mothers except to wonder how such clucking old hens should ever have hatched out such resplendent swans. It doesn't even occur to us that it is the women who never had much schooling themselves who keep the colleges going. They are determined that their children shall have the education that was denied them, and so they pinch and scrimp and save and wear last year's hats and basement bargains and spread the butter a little thinner on the bread, and buy stew meat instead of pot roast so that Janie and Tom and Maggie and Sam may have the advantages they never had.

Mother knows well enough when she educates her children above herself that she is losing them, that she is pushing them into a world where she cannot follow them. She knows that she will bore them, that perhaps they will be ashamed of her. She knows that not once in a thousand times do children appreciate the sacrifices made for them, but that does not keep her from seeking their good at her own expense. It is a marvelous example of altruism, only it is so common that nobody wonders at it.

We make a great ado over the successful modern business woman, but nobody gets out a brass band to celebrate the achievements in finance of the poor woman who makes every dollar do the work of five and who, somehow, manages to keep a family fed and clothed and comfortable on a shoe-string income. The real warriors of finance are the women who juggle millions on Wall Street. They are women who have taught marked-down sales, who walk ten blocks to save a cent on a head of lettuce and who perform such miracles of budget balancing as would entitle them to be secretaries of the Treasury if they got their just deserts. But no one, not even their husbands, ever gives them credit for their ability to handle money. It is no more than Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Brown are doing.

We don't think of a woman as making any sacrifice when she spends her whole life toiling for her family, cooking and cleaning and washing and scrubbing and baby-tending; spending sleepless nights watching by their bedside when they are sick; doing without the things she craves so that Mary may have a party frock and Bill the bicycle his heart is set on. We don't think of a woman as a diplomat when she handles a cranky husband with gloves, when she sidesteps his prejudices and jolies him out of his grouches and into doing the things he should do. We don't think of a woman as a dead-game sport who puts up with her husband's infidelities and smiles above a breaking heart, so that she can keep a home together for her children and give them a better chance in the world.

We don't think of a woman as an inspiration who braces her husband up when he loses courage and spurs him on to making the most of his opportunities. Nor do we realize that nine times out of ten it is the mother who lights the fires of ambition in her children's souls and makes them aspire to things they would never have dreamed of doing but for her.

We do not even notice the women who do these things because so many women do them. They are the forgotten women. The domestic women whose achievements nobody notes or remembers but GOD.

Uncle Wiggily's Swing

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Every year when summer came, Uncle Wiggily made swings and hammocks for his rabbit children to play in. Whether they went to the seashore or to the woods near Green Lake, where they were now, the rabbit children, as soon as the cottage was settled, would put up a swing or a hammock. Sometimes he put up both.

The day after Cuddie, Bessie and Scuddle had been so nearly caught by the swooping hawk, Nurse Jane said to Uncle Wiggily:

"I think the children could easier be kept in the woods and away from the hawk, if they had a swing to play with."

"You are right, as always, Nurse Jane," said Uncle Wiggily. "I shall make a swing to-day and, to-morrow, I shall make a hammock. I'll put them under the trees here in the woods, near the cottage and then you and Mrs. Longears can be sure the children are safe while I am out adventuring."

"That will be nice," said the muskrat lady housekeeper.

WORK BEGINS

Uncle Wiggily started work at once on the swing. For a rope he used some of the long, strong wild grapes that grew in the woods. He had Cuddie and Bessie and Scuddle, gnaw a seat board out of an apple log. For a seat he used a soft and easily gnawed by beaver.

But how are you going to fasten the rope to the tree, Daddy?" asked Bessie.

"I'll get Johnny and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels, to do the climbing for me," said Mr. Longears. "They can fasten the ends of the grapevine rope to the branch of the tree."

Johnny and Billie were very glad to help. The squirrel boys took the grapevine and, holding it in their teeth, they climbed up the tree by sticking their sharp claws in the bark. They tied hard knots in the vine, so it wouldn't slip off the branch.

"Thank you, squirrel boys," said Uncle Wiggily when the vine rope was in place. "You may sit on the swing and have some fun."

"Thank you," chattered Johnny. "But we can climb to the rope by our claws, like a cat, and swing in that way while the others sit on the board. We don't need a board when we swing."

FUN FOR ALL

So the two squirrels cleverly clung to the rope up above the heads of Bessie, Cuddie, and Scuddle. They swung and the rabbit children who took turns sitting on the swing board, to and fro went the swing, high and low and they all had a jolly time.

All morning the animal children played on Uncle Wiggily's swing. But in the afternoon, when Bessie was giving Cuddie and Scuddle a ride and sitting on the seat, along came two bad dogs named Wuff and Wuff.

"Get out of that swing!" barked Wuff.

"We want to swing in it!" snarled Wuff.

"Oh! Oh!" cried Baby Bessie. "I'm going to run and tell Uncle Wiggily."

"This is our swing now!" snarled Wuff. "The two bad dogs got in the swing and went higher and higher. They didn't see Johnny and Billie clinging to the ropes over their heads."

"Let's give them a surprise!" whispered Johnny. "I'll grab the grapevine rope, cut it with our sharp teeth and let them fall!"

"Sure!" whispered Billie. I did not take the squirrel boys long to cut the vine near the branch to which it was tied. With a crash and a bang down came the swing, bumping the bad dogs hard. They ran away howling and didn't dare come back. Then the squirrels fixed the swing again and the summer had fine fun swinging.

And if the cake of soap doesn't take the lilypond stick for a clothes pole, I'll tell you just about Uncle Wiggily's hammock.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1935

This is to be a month of amazing activities in which there is a strong trend toward speculation, according to astrology. Panic and handling will be much in the news, problems of currency and gold will be widely discussed.

On this day horoscope aspects are strong, but there is an omen read as presaging serious labor difficulties affecting new fields of industry. Agriculture may meet odd conditions in harvest time.

This is an auspicious day for constructive work of every sort—time to plan as well as to execute important projects. Engineers are to profit.

To-day is fortunate for signing contracts and agreements regarding future business concerns. Young men should benefit, especially if they are educated and thoroughly trained.

Aviation continues under a favorable direction of the stars, but there may be some sort of trouble with the navy branch of the service.

This is a day in which to think cautiously concerning one's personal affairs as to resist the inclination to blame capital or the government for unhappy conditions.

Many sudden fortunes again are forecast. A few will be based on mines, but others will be due to daring ventures in stocks. Juggling in foreign money will be popular.

New fashions again are prognosticated and increase in the cost of clothing is probable. There will be much display of wealth at certain resorts—the gulf between the rich and the poor will be wider than ever.

Those whose birthdate it is to have the augury of a year of prosperity. For certain persons unexpected journeys are indicated.

Children born on this day probably will be practical in character and able to achieve much through hard work. Subjects of this sign of Leo are usually kind-hearted and sympathetic. Many excel in conversation and are able to exert wide influence.

Richard Henry Dana, jurist and author, was born on this day, 1815. Others who have celebrated an anniversary include George Tickner, author, 1781, and Robert Todd Lincoln, lawyer and politician, eldest son of President Lincoln, 1843.
